CHAUTEMPS VOTE ALMOST UNANIMOUS

New French Cabinet's Confidence Test in Chamber Is 501 to 1

Statement Of Policies Made

PARIS (CP-Havas) — The Chamber of Deputies tonight voted confidence in the new Chautemps government. The vote was 501 to 1.

It was the first test for the government formed Tuesday after a five-day cabinet crisis which resulted from grave labor strife, the fall of the franc and diplomatic setbacks.

A favorable vote after the ministerial declaration of policy was assured when Communists and Socialists, the Premier's old allies in the People's Front, decided to support him on this test. However, the centre and right also voted for the government.

U.S. Shortage Of $1,000,000 Denied

Comptroller-General Says He Knows Nothing Of C.C.C. Gaps

WASHINGTON (AP)—An assertion before a Senate committee today that the general accounting office was investigating a $1,000,000 shortage in funds in the Civilian Conservation Corps brought from that agency the statement it knew nothing about it.

A written statement by Senator G. P. Nye, Republican, North Dakota, read to Senate public lands committee, said he understood the accounting office was investigating the big shortage "in the southwestern part of the United States" and another of $250,000 in Kansas.

Richard N. Elliott, comptroller-general and head of the accounting office, said when told of the allegations he knew neither about the shortages nor any investigation of them.

New Public Health Moves Advocated

Stronger Federal Leadership Needed, Medical Association Tells Rowell Board

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Medical Association recommended, in a brief presented today to the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations, establishment of a medical research council, urged responsibility for care of indigent patients be fixed definitely and suggested a survey be conducted before any system of health insurance is applied in Canada.

The association, founded in 1867, Confederation year, submitted a 6,000-word statement in which it suggested the desirability of bringing all government health activities under administration of the Department of National Health, but did not definitely recommend such a step.

The brief sought public health leadership "through the further building up of a staff of such competence and recognized ability, within the Department of National Health, that its advice will be sought and accepted." It declared this would not require any change in the British North America Act but might imply a change in viewpoint of Dominion authority, "namely, a determination to give leadership and not to seek to avoid responsibility in public health by stating it is a matter for the provinces."

Refugees Flee From Teruel Front in Spain

HENDAYE, France, (On the Spanish Frontier) (AP)—Spanish insurgent forces threw their aerial strength into battle for Teruel today, after raids on government seaports in two days had brought death or injury to hundreds.

With loyalist forces in possession of Teruel since their recent offensive, the insurgents have been attacking along much of the front in the region. Most of the citizens fled weeks ago from the immediate vicinity of the city, 135 miles east of Madrid, but scenes such as the above are still witnessed at nearby points.

Radio Contest In War in China

SHANGHAI (CP-Havas)—The Japanese-Chinese conflict now has its "radio war." Changsha, capital of Hunan province, serves as the "base" of Chinese activities. The Japanese, meeting their adversary's "offensive," have a radio station in Shanghai devoted to broadcasts in Chinese to counter the Changsha station's Japanese language programmes.

SMALLFOGD, Eng. (CP-Havas)—Three fliers were killed today when two Royal Air Force planes collided in the air over this Hertfordshire village.

THREE CARS IN FIVE FAMILIES

At December 31, 112,822 Vehicles Licensed to Operate in B.C.

There is a car licensed to operate on British Columbia highways for every six and a half people in the province, according to figures released by the Provincial Police motor branch this morning.

The figures show a gain of slightly less than 10 per cent in the registration of both commercial and passenger vehicles in B.C.

On the basis of a 725,000 population in the province and the total registration of motor vehicles for the end of December at 112,822, the statement would indicate approximately three cars for every five families.

The registration of 112,822 sets another new record for the province, and indicates that by the end of the 1937 license year, on February 28, the total will soar to an all-time high of about 115,000.

The registration includes a total of 90,153 passenger machines and 22,669 commercial vehicles. The total registration at the end of December, 1936, was 82,745 passenger cars and 20,106 vehicles used commercially.

Lt. Gen. Doihara Bringing in "Acceptable" North Chinese Leaders to Rule

SHANGHAI (AP)—Japan's "Lawrence of Manchuria" is reported Friday to be setting up a puppet regime to govern the conquered heart of China.

Chinese sources declared Lieutenant General Kenji Doihara, political manipulator for the Japanese army, whose efforts launched the dismemberment of Manchuria and north China, was bringing in "acceptable" northern Chinese to rule the Shanghai and Nanking area.

"I don't think Gen. Doihara is in Shanghai at present," said the Japanese military spokesman. But Chinese asserted he had established headquarters at the New Asia Hotel, rendezvous of high Japanese commanders and prospective political advisers.

Doihara's undercover work had been credited with keeping China in turmoil during the decade preceding the present hostilities.

Loyal to Dominion Say Mayne Japanese

None Went to Orient to Fight, State People On B.C. Island

VANCOUVER (CP)—Spokesmen for Japanese residents of Mayne Island in the Gulf of Georgia today issued a denial of statements made by Captain MacGregor Macintosh at a political rally here Tuesday night.

The Conservative member of the British Columbia Legislature for the Islands riding charged Japanese were "taking over" Mayne Island, and that Japanese born on the island were sent to the Orient to serve time in the Japanese army.

Col. C. L. Flick of the British Columbia House, retired, brought the statement to Vancouver.

The denial said there was no truth in the statement:

MILL RATE CUT IS SUGGESTED

Possibility of Half-mill Reduction Foreseen in 1938 City Tax Rate

A half mill reduction in the city tax rate may be possible this year. Although members of the City Council are non-committal on the subject it is understood they are working to achieve another reduction.

The council has called this year for an early settlement of estimates, suggesting the end of next month be fixed as the time by which the budget should be finally passed. Actual debate on revenue and expenditure will probably await return of D. A. MacDonald, city comptroller-treasurer, from Ottawa, where he is at present supervising printing of the city's new refund debentures.

In the meantime the police department has started preparation of its budget, as have the fire wardens, parks and electric light committees. In the majority of instances departments are hampered by accounts still outstanding from last year. Accurate estimates are difficult until those bills are received and listed.

REDUCTION INDICATED

Mayor Andrew McGavin, questioned today on his opinion regarding the mill rate, was non-committal. However, in his inaugural address, he voiced his belief the rate should be kept down. And during his campaign he indicated a slight reduction might be made.

With a net surplus of approximately $100,000, the city stands in a better financial position at present than it did at the beginning of last year. That surplus will, however, be earmarked for a special fund to meet the first payments falling due under the debt retirement scheme in 1940. Any similar surplus which might accrue this year, would also be of value in avoiding a boost in the rate to meet those payments.

If the council wishes to complete the year with such a surplus, no great reduction in the rate would be possible.

Still to be considered are the mayor's announced intentions of setting definite policies on special grants and on the hospital issue.

NO LET-UP IN TRAFFIC DRIVE

Motorists, Pedestrians and Cyclists Again Warned By Police

There will be no let-up on the police drive to make motorists, pedestrians and cyclists "toe the mark" until there are definite signs of improvement in traffic conditions, Acting Police Chief J. A. McLellan said this morning.

"Throughout the past two weeks we have been keeping a pretty careful watch on fast driving and general traffic infringements, and although we have tried not to be unreasonable we intend to pursue this course until results are shown," Mr. McLellan said.

He did not confine his warning to motorists alone.

"Pedestrians and cyclists are equally guilty of carelessness in traffic and such things as pedestrians jay-walking and cyclists failing to observe all motor vehicle regulations are just as dangerous as a speeding car," he said.

Persons who insisted on crossing streets in the middle of the block must expect to be endangered on days when city traffic is heavy, while cyclists must not think they have any special privileges on the streets, the chief said.

"There are both old and young offenders riding bicycles, and despite the fact that every week there are between 20 and 30 cyclists brought to headquarters for warnings, the others must be made cognizant of the offences they are committing," he said.

Armed Thieves Rob Lone Woman

Miss Mary Gourlay Made to Face Wall as Robbers Loot Her Store

Armed with guns and giving terse commands to "stick 'em up and turn your face to the wall," three robbers last night at 10:20 held up Miss Mary Gourlay, of the Cossy Candy Shop, 2209 Fernwood Road, and escaped with $15 which she was counting in her living quarters at the rear of the premises.

Miss Gourlay obeyed the command and within a few seconds the bandits had completed their job and made good their getaway.

Today Acting Chief J. A. McLellan, who took personal charge of the investigation, definitely linked the robbers with those who held up and robbed Fred W. Doherty, B.C. Electric street car operator, on the night of January 5 at the Outer Wharf car terminus.

Descriptions given by Mr. Doherty and Miss Gourlay tallied closely, the acting chief said, and tactics employed by the men were similar.

MADE TO FACE WALL

Miss Gourlay told a reporter of The Times this morning she had little opportunity to watch the robbers at work since they made her face the wall as soon as they came in.

She was just about to close her store when the men walked in. She was in the back, screened from the store by a curtain. One of the men walked into the back and announced "This is a stick-up. Where's your money?"

"Here it is," Miss Gourlay replied, indicating the loose change on the table, which she had been counting.

"Is that all?" asked the robber. "It sure is," she replied.

"Alright, stick 'em up and turn your face to the wall," was the final command.

Miss Gourlay said that while one of the men took the change from the table another went to (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

Jail-break Plot In Toronto Is Foiled

Government Official Says Guard Aiding Prisoners' Escape Plan Discharged

TORONTO (CP)—Plans for a prison delivery at Toronto's Don Jail "quite evidently" were made but did not succeed, C. F. Neelands, Ontario's Deputy Provincial Secretary, said today.

The break was scheduled for January 16, when eight men were believed ready to try to gain their freedom from the old jail on the banks of the Don River in east Toronto.

A guard alleged to have participated in plans to free the unnamed prisoners was discharged.

"The guard lost his job and there is no use making it tougher for his family by releasing his name," Mr. Neelands said. Police said today no charges had been laid.

The guard was alleged to have communicated with a Toronto woman in connection with liaison operations between prisoners and outside confederates.

Two saws and a long iron bar were found in the jail and it was reported guns were to have been smuggled to the prisoners.

Both the woman and the guard denied they were implicated in the scheme. The guard was said to have been promised $50 for his part.

The Toronto Globe and Mail, disclosing the affair in a story this morning, said: "Guns and cars, the latter manned by ex-Kingston penitentiary convicts, were to figure in it. Eight self-styled ringleaders were to make the first bid for freedom."

"Two diamond-point saws with heavy handles and a long piece of iron bar already had been smuggled into the jail when a 'grapevine tip' put the jail governor and his aides on to the desperate situation."

Guard For Hiye At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chief Constable W. W. Foster of the Vancouver police department said today a special guard from the detective division would be placed on the Japanese motorship Hiye Maru when she arrives here from Seattle tomorrow.

An alleged plot to bomb the vessel was discovered in Seattle yesterday.

Rolf Forsyth Was Known Here

Vancouverite Found Dead Near Liner at Seattle Visited City Years Ago

Rolf Forsyth, former Vancouver school teacher, whose body was found near the Great Northern Dock in Seattle Thursday, after an unsuccessful attempt to blow up the liner Hiye Maru, was in Victoria a few years ago attending a session of the Boys' Parliament.

During his stay, Forsyth visited John Forsyth, Fort Street book merchant, John Forsyth was no relation, but Rolf had come to see him because of the coincidence that his (Rolf's) father, George, Forsyth, was a retired Vancouver book merchant.

Rolf Forsyth was a native son of British Columbia, born 27 years ago.

He graduated from the University of British Columbia's faculty of agriculture in 1931, having specialized in animal husbandry. After graduation he proceeded with post-graduate work at the University of British Columbia and obtained his master's degree in 1933.

Then he became assistant in the department of animal husbandry at the university for a year, later leaving the college to work as a chick sexer—introduced into British Columbia from Japan a few years ago.

Then he traveled extensively in Europe. On his return to British Columbia he was appointed a teacher in The Towers School in New Westminster. Since leaving The Towers last year he had had no definite employment.

TIED TO HOOK

Customs bureau officials said Customs Inspector Paul W. Copestick and Customs Guard Harry A. Brown had found the tar-covered suitcase on its timber "raft," which had a hook screwed into the centre.

Authorities took extreme precautions to prevent the suspected infernal machine exploding. Copestick said he and Brown had taken two hours to work it out from among the piling. It then was towed to the coast guard patrol boat No. 4323 and lifted on the picket boat's bow under the glare of searchlights for transfer to the wharf.

Customs bureau officials said the suitcase had lodged near where the stern of the Hiye Maru had been before she was moved when authorities learned of the bomb plot.

Following discovery of the suitcase, Seattle police continued to press their investigation of the reputed plot. Detective Lieuts. F. A. Himes and Walter J. O'Brien and Coroner Otto H. Mittelstadt directed efforts to find an automobile camp a few miles south of Tacoma, on the Olympic Highway, where they (Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Quebec School Blast Inquiry

Coal Gas May Have Caused Holocaust in Which 46 Died

ST. HYACINTHE, Que. (CP)—Working primarily on a theory of exploding coal gas, investigating police scanned the ruins of the Sacred Heart College here today for the cause of the blast and fire that last Tuesday morning brought death to 46 teaching brothers and pupils.

City and provincial police examined the college's five furnaces among the tangled remnants of the $500,000 building. Meanwhile parents went away to await resumption of the search for bodies after standing for long hours in the bitter cold.

The investigators said great fires roared in all the furnaces last Monday night because of the extremely low temperature. "Accumulated coal gas in the long chimney, extending above all four floors, might have been exploded by heat from any of the furnaces," it was believed. The fact the chimney touched every story might have accounted for the swift spread of the fire.

Japan Asked About Warships

LONDON (CP)—Sir Robert Craigie, British ambassador at Tokyo, today received instructions to inquire into Japan's big battleship intentions.

By treaty Great Britain, United States and France have undertaken not to build capital ships of more than 35,000 tons. Japan, which is not so limited, intends, it has been reported, to build out to the treaty limit.

TWO NAMED TO SENATE

N. Lambert and D. Marshall From Ontario; Four Vacancies Still

OTTAWA (CP)—Political circles continued to speculate today on Prime Minister King's possible selections for four remaining vacant seats in the Senate. Two in Quebec and one each in Alberta and Manitoba. The two Ontario vacancies were filled late Thursday with the appointment of Norman Lambert, president of the National Liberal Federation, and Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture at different times in both Alberta and Ontario.

Mr. Lambert and Mr. Marshall will take the seats made vacant by the deaths of Senator Horatio Hocken of Toronto and Senator James Arthur of Parry Sound. In announcing the appointments after Thursday afternoon's cabinet meeting, Prime Minister King said the cabinet would meet again next Tuesday.

BORN IN ONTARIO

Norman Lambert, born in Mount Forest, Ont., in 1885, is an honor graduate in economics and history of the University of Toronto. He is a former newspaperman and was at various times associate editor of The Grain Growers' Guide and staff correspondent of The Toronto Globe.

Mr. Lambert spent considerable time on the prairies. He was at one time western manager and acting general manager of the Maple Leaf Milling Company, former secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture and former director of the Manitoba interests in the prairie wheat pools.

In 1932 he became secretary of the National Liberal Federation and on the retirement of Hon. Vincent Massey as president of the federation in 1936, Mr. Lambert succeeded to that office, which he now holds.

Prime Minister King said Mr. Lambert would continue as president of the federation.

He is married, has four children and lives in Ottawa.

Prisoner Tells Of Crime Trail

P. Anders, Held By G-men; Bodies of Two Victims Found in Wisconsin

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—An amazing story of kidnappings, slayings and bank robberies attributed to Peter Anders, a swarthy former lumberjack, was related today after recovery of the bodies of Charles S. Ross, abducted Chicago manufacturer, and James Atwood Gray, from a cave deep in the northern Wisconsin woods.

Whisking Anders back to St. Paul after a tortuous two-day foray into the frozen fastness of Minnesota and Wisconsin, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said virtually all of the $50,000 ransom paid in vain for release of the 72-year-old Ross had been recovered.

The 30-year-old one time logger in the Pacific northwest detailed each of numerous crimes in a confession covering thousands of words, said Hoover, adding Anders had slain his accomplice, Gray, during an argument.

Hoover said Anders had confessed kidnapping John Borcia and his wife, Olivia, of Chicago, and robbing one Minnesota and three Wisconsin banks. The Borcias were released without payment of ransom.

When arrested last Friday at the Santa Anita racetrack near Los Angeles, Anders possessed about $14,000 of the Ross ransom money, Hoover said. An additional $30,000 was found hidden in Minnesota. Anders said $3,000 to $6,000 of the balance was stolen from his car in New York city.

The bodies of Ross and Gray, the latter nude, were found just before dark Thursday in a small, brush concealed cave in a desolate section about 12 miles northwest of Spooner, Wis. Hoover said the killer had slain Gray first and then shot the elderly kidnapper.

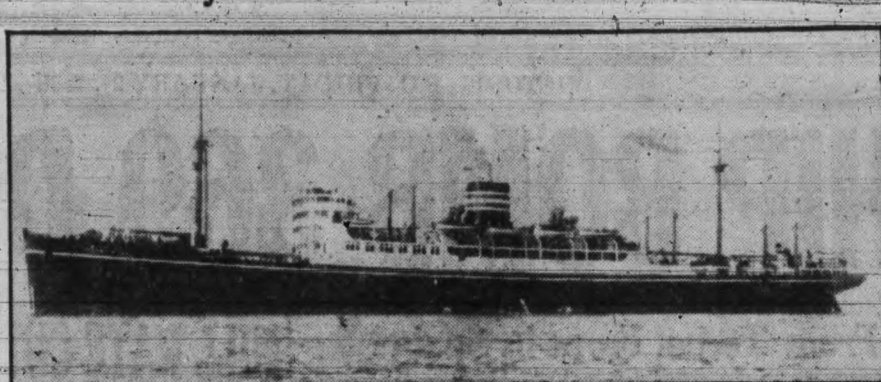

Anders chained the bodies in the vault-like burial place and then covered them with brush and debris, said the federal chief. Detailing the search for ransom loot and the bodies, Hoover said the trial led beyond St. Cloud, Minn., about 70 miles north of here. In a wooded region near Emily, Minn., Hoover said the prisoner led federal agents to a dugout where Ross was confined immediately after the kidnapping near Chicago, September 25, and then to a brush heap where $30,000 of the ransom money was found in a portable typewriter case.

STATEMENT BY BROTHER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chief Constable W. W. Foster today released part of a statement made by William Partridge concerning the part played by his elder brother, George Partridge, 24, in a reported attempt early Thursday to blow up the Japanese liner Hiye Maru while the ship was docked in Seattle.

George Partridge, formerly of

Object of Bomb Plot At Seattle

Rushed to another mooring yesterday morning when details of a plot to blow her up were learned, the Japanese Ms. Hiye Maru was back at her berth alongside Pier 40 in Seattle this afternoon preparing to sail for Vancouver, on her way to the Orient this evening. A vessel of 11,000 tons gross, the Hiye is owned by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. She was launched at Yokohama in 1930, and has an overall length of 510 feet, a beam of 66 and a moulded depth of 41. Vancouver police will provide a special guard for the ship tomorrow.

said they believed the plotters had camped.

AUTO IS HUNTED

O'Brien said they believed explosive had been obtained nearby. Also he said, the officers were looking for an automobile believed to have been used in transporting materials, and that they were seeking hobo "jungle camp" habitues south of Seattle.

Partridge, held for questioning, told Police Capt. Marshall Scafford he and Forsyth had been hired for the bombing job.

He said he last had seen Forsyth early Thursday splashing into the numbing waters of Elliott Bay, pushing a railroad tie to which was lashed a suitcase containing explosives.

"I'll do it or die in the attempt," Partridge said Forsyth told him before swimming toward the Hiye Maru, berthed at Pier 40.

The nude body of Forsyth, clad only in a life jacket, was found a short time later by a Japanese seaman. A coroner's inquest Thursday night decided Forsyth had met death by drowning.

Partridge was arrested by a wharf watchman and first held as a suspected box-car thief. With discovery of Forsyth's body and Partridge's acknowledgment he knew the dead man, Partridge then unfolded the weird bombing story, saying the Hiye Maru was to be blown up by a time bomb.

SHIPS WARNED

Harbor shipping was warned to be on the lookout for the floating bomb. Explosive experts, declining to be quoted by name, said that even assuming the suitcase to be waterlogged, some explosives would still be dangerous 48 hours after exposure to water.

Partridge told Scafford Forsyth had offered him $1,000 to aid him in the bombing attempt. He said "Orientals" had arranged with Forsyth for the blowing up of Japanese ships loading scrap iron and war materials. He said he did not know the nationality of the Orientals.

CODE KEY FOUND

In the dead Forsyth's bill-fold was found a code key, using numbers, letters and simple symbols to represent letters of the alphabet. Scafford and Coroner's deputy Harlan S. Callahan disclosed.

The United States navy took an informal hand in the investigation when Lieut. Commander Edward Sparrow and Capt. W. J. Giles, chief of staff of the 13th naval district, appeared at the Hiye Maru's pier and made inquiries.

Capt. Giles explained his office merely was making a routine survey, as the investigation was being "capably handled by the police. Coastguard and customs authorities."

Clint Harley, Seattle businessman who identified the body of Forsyth at the morgue, described the dead teacher as an "idealist" who was "raised in an atmosphere of complete refinement," and whom he said was a "cultured gentleman of the finest type—a superb athlete and gifted scholar."

Mrs. Harley said she had known Forsyth 25 years, and he "abhorred brutality, war and killing."

"It is hard to believe he could become involved in such a weird plot," she said. "However, he always was opposed to war and aggression. I believe that perhaps was the motive for his act, not any desire for personal gain or heroism. I think, perhaps, he might have thought he was halting aggression in China."

She said Forsyth returned recently from a study trip to England, Denmark and Finland.

NOT KNOWN TO HIM

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—C. C. Huang, Chinese consul-general, said today he had no knowledge of any proposal to bomb ships carrying scrap metal to Japan.

Huang also said he did not know George Partridge or Rolfe Forsyth, principals in an investigation at Seattle concerning a plot to bomb the Japanese liner Hiye Maru.

The consul said many persons visited his office seeking to enlist in the Chinese army or give similar aid to that country, but none of the applications was given consideration because such activities were outside the realm of his position.

"I had no conference with anyone concerning proposals to blow up ships," Huang said.

WEYBURN, Sask. (CP)—

George Partridge, held at Seattle after telling of a plot to bomb the Japanese liner Hiye Maru, was born on a farm just outside Weyburn. He went to Vancouver with a brother William.

George is a carpenter, and was believed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Partridge, to be employed at his trade.

Two boys and a girl of the eight Partridge children are at home. The other boys are traveling somewhere in Canada, but the parents have not heard from them for some time.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rolfe Maurice Forsyth, drowned in an apparent attempt to bomb the Japanese liner Hiye Maru while she lay berthed in Seattle, today was described by one of his university professors as "quiet, unassuming, intelligent and industrious."

But Prof. H. M. King, head of the University of British Columbia's department of animal husbandry, said Forsyth was also "restless and adventurous." The young man, about 27 years old, took his degree at Master of Science in agriculture from the U.B.C. in 1933.

Prof. King saw his former pupil last September. As acting manager of the Vancouver Exhibition Association, Mr. King gave the young man, seemingly destitute, temporary employment directing traffic at the fair grounds here.

Nanaimo Plans New Gymnasium

NANAIMO—The city may get a new gymnasium if the recommendations of a public meeting, held last night, are accepted. Members of service clubs, patriotic and fraternal organizations and other civic bodies recommended that a new wing be built on the present school gymnasium at a maximum cost of $10,000.

Plans were also discussed for the erection of a civic centre, which would cost more than the proposed gymnasium. The present gymnasium was built in 1923 at a cost of $10,695 and is now far too small. J. B. Litch, supervisor of schools, told the meeting privately operated gymnasiums were not satisfactory and he hoped the new school gymnasium would be built.

Retired Doctor To Be Buried Here

The body of Dr. Maxwell Stephen Inglis, retired physician, who passed away in Vancouver on Wednesday, aged 74 years, will arrive in Victoria tomorrow morning and be conveyed to the S. J. Curry and Son Funeral Home. Interment will be in the family plot at Royal Oak Burial Park at 10, Rev. John McNab conducting the committal service.

Dr. Inglis was born in Montreal. He was former provincial coroner in Manitoba, once served as medical health officer in Winnipeg, and during the Great War served overseas with the Canadian Army Medical Corps. After the war he came to British Columbia to take charge of the hospital at Chehalis, B.C., and also of British Columbia hospital camps. He retired two years ago.

Surviving are his widow and a son, H. M. B. Inglis, in Vancouver, and a daughter, Mrs. M. Coste, 1712 Beach Drive, Victoria.

Three men were seen to enter the store and a fourth to stand outside on the lookout, by Stephen Trach, 1234 Pembroke Street, who was passing.

The men left the store in a hurry, crossed the street and ran through a vacant lot on Centre Street towards the rear of Victoria High School, police said.

Two more robberies last night were investigated by police but they were not linked with the Gourlay hold-up.

Half an hour after Miss Gourlay reported her experience, Miss Jean M. Bailey, 1205 Fernwood Road, reported someone had entered her kitchen and stolen a purse containing $8 and personal effects from the kitchen table.

WALKED INTO KITCHEN

Miss Bailey had been for a short walk and when she returned she momentarily left the back door open. While she was in the bedroom her dog barked and she came out to find her purse, which she had left on the kitchen table, gone.

Mrs. J. N. McNeil, 3153 Irma Street, was accosted by two men shortly before 10 last night as she walked along Burnside Road and turned on to Irma Street. One grabbed her arm, saying, "Come on, give it up," and they snatched a parcel of bacon from her, police were told.

Roche, former under-secretary of the Treasury in charge of public health for the United States, listing the 10 most frequent causes of death as: heart disease, cancer, pneumonia and influenza, cerebral hemorrhage, nephritis, tuberculosis, diabetes, diarrhoea and interitis, appendicitis and syphilis.

The brief said that among these diseases "should lie to a large degree the great future of preventive medicine in public health. It is obvious, however, that no appreciable improvement can be looked for until the sources of disease are recognized and eradicated." It said this could be accomplished only through preventive health work which:

1. Must include systematic physical examination at all ages of life.
2. Must take into account living conditions, habits of life and economic conditions.
3. Must enlist every medical practitioner and all other health workers as part of the preventive forces of the country.
4. Must provide for adequate diagnostic and laboratory services to all the people in our country.

GRANTS TO PROVINCES

The association urged acceptance of a policy of making grants-in-aid to provinces for province-wide public health activity and, through the provinces, to local areas for local public health services.

Concerning the Department of Pensions and National Health, the brief said:

"There does not appear to us to be any logical connection between pensions and national health."

"National health should be big enough and important enough to stand by itself. Should it, however, not be found feasible for it to enjoy individual status, it is most desirable and indeed essential that it be headed by a full time deputy minister."

SURVEY URGED

The brief summarized the association's position on health insurance by saying it believed that before health insurance is applied in any part of Canada a survey such as was recommended in 1935 by Hon. Donald M. Sutherland, then Minister of Pensions and National Health, and approved by a conference of provincial health ministers, should first be carried out.

It urged such a survey be made and offered its assistance to any authority undertaking it.

SAYS ISLAND HAS ICE BUGS

Clinton Wood Finds Rare
Insects Common on For-bidden Plateau

Clinton Wood came down from the Forbidden Plateau yesterday with a story that the rare ice bugs are almost as common as ants up there.

"We've known about them for some time but we never thought anything about them."

The ice bugs have not been noticed in the white snow, though they may be there, but have been found in abundance in the red snow which is a feature of the plateau.

Mr. Wood believes that the ice bugs live on the minute algae which color the snow red. He is preserving some of the bugs in bottles for the Provincial Museum.

The ice bug was recently brought to the attention of the public when G. Allan Mail, Dominion entomologist, announced that he had discovered a few of these rare insects at 1,660 feet on a mountain near Kamloops.

Ice bugs have been found before, but the lowness of the altitude where these were found surprised scientists and caused quite a discussion.

The red snow in which the Forbidden Plateau bugs have been found is mostly on the sides of Mount Albert Edward, a peak of 7,000 feet, and the higher mountains.

Macchione Case Appeal By Crown Canadian Supreme Court to Rule on New Trial Order in British Columbia

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer announced this week the Crown would appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada from a recent British Columbia Appeal Court decision granting Vincent Macchione a new trial.

Macchione, twice convicted of the murder near Fernie, B.C., February 9, 1936, of Michael Hudock of Michel. He was first convicted in May, 1936, and sentenced to death by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson.

An appeal was taken and a new trial ordered. The second hearing on May 27, 1937, at Fernie, also resulted in a verdict of guilty, and Macchione again was sentenced to be hanged. The Court of Appeal January 11 granted him a new trial in a two-to-one decision.

The appeal court's decision was based on grounds that misdirection of the jury by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, the trial judge, had occurred.

Canada Urged To Bar Communists

Federation of Catholic Workers States Views to Federal Government

OTTAWA (CP) — The Communist Party in Canada should be outlawed, the federal government was advised Thursday by the Federation of Catholic Workers of Canada. The federation delegation was received by a large section of the cabinet headed by Justice Minister Lapointe.

The delegation suggested foreign labor organizers be stopped at the border, that Canada take part in no war outside its territory, that the Dominion embark on a vast programme of public works and industrial bonuses to assist employment.

Touching on Communism, the federation said the party in times of unrest and discord tried "to foment disregard of authority, make appeals to violence, sap the bases of society, attack God and religion, and, in a word, do everything possible to choke-off the highest sentiments which can originate in the heart of man."

"A review of Communism's record leads to the conclusion the Communist Party should be declared illegal in Canada. The Supreme Court of Ontario, furthermore, has already declared the Communist Party is illegal in this country."

Turning to foreign labor organizers, the federation's brief said: "In the course of several strikes, notably in the silk dress strike at Montreal and the automobile strike at Oshawa, foreign labor organizers—with little to recommend them—came to Canada to create trouble and foment disorder."

Minister of Justice Lapointe and Labor Minister Rogers, spokesmen for the cabinet, assured the union men consideration would be given their recommendations.

Fresh Process For Fruit Found

Retired Manitoba Farmer
Uses Neither Freezing
Nor Chemicals

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—Hope that a retired Winnipeg farmer has succeeded in perfecting a process of preserving fruits and vegetables so they will retain life and freshness for a period of months, without freezing or use of chemicals, was expressed at the concluding session of the Fruit and Vegetable Jobbers' Association convention here Thursday by Harold Smith, Winnipeg.

Mr. Smith, who thought Joseph McCandless, the farmer, "might have something," said that if true, this method might greatly increase the use of Canadian-grown products, making many imports from the south unnecessary.

Mr. Smith did not know what the process was, but said it would be investigated and assured the convention that if it was found to be sound no effort to keep it out of use would be tolerated.

The association will petition Hon. J. G. Gardiner, federal Minister of Agriculture, that all hotels, restaurants or retail stores selling quick-frozen foods be required to acquaint the public of this fact fully by label or on menus.

Esquimalt Reports Largest Surplus

Last Year Best in History of Municipality, Says Reeve

"In 1937 we have built up a record in Esquimalt. We have never had, since our incorporation in 1912, such an amount of money in the bank at the end of our fiscal year," Reeve Alexander Lockley told a public meeting in the Esquimalt Municipal Hall last night.

The reeve spoke for an hour and 28 minutes. Exclusive of members of the municipal council, school board and police commission, candidates and newspapermen, there were nine people in the audience. He reviewed the finances of the municipality, its difficulties and the manner in which they had been met, and its future outlook. As a candidate for a school board seat in Saturday's election, he also spoke at some length on school matters.

One other school board candidate and the two men seeking a seat on the police commission spoke briefly at the meeting. Councillor Albert Heald was in the chair.

The municipality, said Reeve Lockley, had ended 1937 with a surplus of some $7,500. This had been due to a large extent to an excess of tax collections over the estimates for the year. As indications of better conditions in the municipality he mentioned that the amount of taxes written off because of reversions of property had dropped from a peak of $57,123 in 1933 to $6,617 in 1937, and that net relief costs were also lower.

"People are getting more confident in Esquimalt. There is a better feeling in the municipality now than there has ever been before. Everyone is anxious to do something to help his district," he said, pointing to an 82.18 per cent collection for the year on a 42 mill tax rate, against only 65 per cent on 40 mills in 1934.

MILL VALUE DOWN
The municipality's good financial position had been attained in spite of the fact that the value of the mill had fallen from $2,773 in 1933 to $1,892 last year, through the loss of taxes from the Hudson's Bay Company property and through a large reduction in assessments. Strict economy had been necessary.

The reeve spoke of the efficiency of the police and fire departments and paid tribute to their staffs.

Speaking of education, he said the council should have representation on the school board, because the schools had the largest share of the municipal budget. He believed careful attention should be paid to the provincial government's school survey, and suggested the municipality would lose by any consolidated district plan for Greater Victoria.

Of the municipality's plea for compensation from the federal government for the amount of tax-free Dominion property in the municipality he said: "We feel confident some relief will be given us this year."

Major A. A. Warder, 1937 chairman of the school board and a candidate for re-election, said the year had been one of the best in the board's history, with a surplus of $1,400. He paid tribute to the staffs and to the organizations which had helped the schools.

G. H. Kinch and Harold Sweeney, candidates for police commissioner, spoke briefly, pledging themselves to keep up the efficiency of the department.

No More Titles For India Urged

LUCKNOW, India (CP-Reuters) — The Legislative Assembly of the United Provinces Thursday unanimously passed a resolution conveying "to the authorities concerned the considered opinion of this House that the practice of conferring titles and decorations in India should be abolished."

The United Provinces form one of the six provinces of British India governed by the National Congress Party. A resolution expressing the opinion the conferring of titles in the Bombay Presidency should be discontinued was passed by the Bombay Legislative Assembly two days ago.

Frank W. Taylor Elected
President of Life Insurance Men

Frank W. Taylor, C.L.U. of the Montreal Life Insurance Company was elected to the presidency of the Victoria Life Underwriters' Association at its annual meeting in Spencer's dining-room yesterday. He succeeds Vernon Ridgeway.

Other officers named were: vice-president, H. A. Elwood, Manufacturers' Life; secretary, W. C. Hudson, Great West Life; treasurer, J. E. Fuller, Manufacturers' Life, and members of the executive: Mr. Ridgeway, Mutual Life; A. C. Butchart, North American Life; H. Tyler, Prudential Life; J. Barraclough, London Life, and H. Mottershead, Confederation Life.

The appointment of another member to the executive was left open, and will be made by the directors at a later date.

The last year had been an important one for life insurance, although Victoria had not seen such marked activity as other centres, said Mr. Ridgeway in his address as retiring president.

There had been a great extension in the studies for the Chartered Life Underwriter examinations, and he believed it likely the course would be revived locally during 1938. Many of the old graduates were supplementing their studies with new subjects that had been introduced.

Mr. Ridgeway spoke of the great loss suffered by the association in the death of Archie M. Aitken, whose services had been of great value.

The new president thanked the members for their confidence and asked them to continue their interest in the affairs of the association during the coming year.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer showed a membership of 32 and a small bank balance at the end of the year.

Says Labor Law Bars Agitators

Amendment By Conservative
Banned Foreign Conciliators, Anscomb Says

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P. for Victoria, told the Junior Conservative Association at a meeting last night that the Conservative Opposition in the Legislature had been responsible for an amendment to the new Labor Disputes Act, which would have the effect of barring foreign agitators from labor negotiations in the province.

The Conservatives, he said, had insisted that conciliators or arbitrators under the act must be British subjects and had secured the necessary amendment.

The member reviewed the last session in great detail.

He claimed that Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, had at last admitted the Conservatives were right when he repealed the act authorizing a refunding of provincial debt. The refunding plan had always savored of repudiation and the finance minister now admitted it had an adverse effect on the credit of the province.

Mr. Anscomb said he had objected to the new Mother's Pension Act as far as it allowed a divorced woman to draw an allowance.

Warwick Rawson, president, was in the chair, and Mr. Anscomb was thanked by B. Mickleburgh.

Mr. Mickleburgh and J. H. Williams were named the association's team to debate with the Young Citizens' League on the question. Resolved that Canada should direct her foreign policy toward the promotion of a world system of collective security.

Rules For Rabbis In Roumania

BUCHAREST (AP) — Orders which in their effect may deprive many synagogues of rabbis were issued today by the anti-Semitic administration of Premier Octavian Goga.

Provincial and municipal authorities were instructed not to renew residence permits for rabbis unless they held Roumanian citizenship.

The order is expected to affect many Jewish communities because Roumania, with upward of 1,000,000 Jews, has few native rabbis. Most of them studied theology abroad and were called from other countries. Many neglected to become citizens.

In another respect, however, the government eased anti-Semitic pressure. Enforcement of an order prohibiting Christian maids under 40 from serving in Jewish households was delayed until

A Good Investment

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT HAS made no mistake in buying 130 acres of land at Little Qualicum River Falls for conversion into and development as a park area. This means the preservation of one of Vancouver Island's beauty spots for the enjoyment of our own people and to serve as an added attraction to the tourists who are coming to the province in increasing numbers.

During the last eight months the boys serving in the government's forestry camps have cleared the new park of underbrush, built stone fireplaces for the convenience of campers, helped to build two miles of road into the falls, and generally have put the newly-acquired property in a presentable condition.

One of the most satisfactory features about the purchase of this area from the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway Company by the government is that it will open up new recreational facilities within easy access of all parts of the island—which means, of course, that it will become popular with visitors from points farther afield.

It is becoming increasingly obvious that Vancouver Island's tourist business will continue to grow from year to year in commercial importance. The more we can offer to the traveling public, therefore, the greater the demand for services which enter into this form of business activity. The initial cost of the new park and any subsequent expense which may be entailed to convert it into a first-class attraction will be repaid a thousand times over within a comparatively short time.

Encouraging Figures

STATISTICS FROM OTTAWA ON employment in Canada tell us that 1937 saw a monthly average of 1,085,831 persons employed, an average gain of 106,090 over 1936 and the highest average since 1929.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics 1937 averages on 11 months indicate there was also an estimated gain of 493 in the number of employers, bringing the total to 120,210. The employment index based on 1926 figures was 114.1 compared with 103.7 in 1936, a gain of 10 per cent.

On the 11 months' basis the Bureau estimated the total number of potential wage-earners in Canada at 2,805,000 and estimated 2,459,000 of them were employed and 346,000 unemployed. It said the percentage of unemployed to total wage-earners was 12.3 compared with 26.5 in 1933, employment through year, and 4.3 in 1929, its peak year.

Discrepancy in figures showing gains in employment and decreases in unemployment was due to growth of the population of potential wage-earners. On the whole, however, the showing is an encouraging one.

The Voice of Montreal

THE MORNING PAPER TELLS US THAT "were it not that the present federal government has made its disastrous railway policy an integral part of the Liberal programme, there is little doubt that the people of the Dominion would favor unification of control of the railway systems so that economies might be practiced and excesses in services abolished." But, because it is "politically operated," it will remain "an incubus on the taxpayers."

If Canadian leaders a quarter of a century ago could have foreseen the Great War and guessed correctly some of the legacies that would be bequeathed by it to the taxpayers of the country, they might have prepared policies that would have met some of our troubles more effectively than they have done. Admittedly, the Dominion's railway business is a problem that has caused successive federal ministers of finance many an economic headache, but, despite the familiar reference our contemporary makes, the political aspirin tablet to cure it has yet to be produced. It is not a political matter in any particular.

The Canadian National Railways is an efficiently conducted national institution. The great majority of the Canadian people are no more inclined now than they have ever been to sanction its transference—use what term you like to interpret "unification"—to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, to give that organization the monopoly of all the services which our transportation systems supply.

Never had the morning paper a better chance to plead its "unification" cause than it did when, for more than five years, Mr. Bennett was in charge of the Dominion's affairs at the national capital. The then Prime Minister not only did not contribute to some attempts to bedevil the Canadian National Railways, but stuck to his definite stand of "co-operation ever—amalgamation never."

Then again, how is it that during the last year or so leaders of industry in Canada, presidents of the Dominion's banks, have scarcely referred, save in the most general terms, to the "grave national problem" which causes the Colonist to put on its blue glasses so frequently? One reason may be that they see in policies being pursued by the present government at Ottawa, policies which are continually increasing the external trade of the country, the only reasonable method of adding to the business which the railways require for their economic well-being.

A Table—A Parable

ONE OF THE "SHOW PIECES" IN THE imposing Saskatchewan Parliament Buildings at Regina is the table round which the Fathers of Confederation sat. It was sent out west from Ottawa by the Dominion Government when the first Northwest Council was set up. As it was too large for the small offices of that day, it was shortened by six feet, but it remains an interesting and much-prized relic of Canada's early days.

When the members of the Rowell Commission met at Regina recently, they sat at this historic table, and it was used as a parable. As one newspaper correspondent put it, not one of those early makers of Canada now exists, but the table is still a sound and sturdy specimen of the best craftsmanship of over 70 years ago.

Premier Patterson is quoted as saying that it needs about the same percentage of renovation and repair as does the British North America Act, which was well and truly laid in its main features at that period, though today the furniture is old-fashioned and the act is regarded by many as being based on a form of society and an idea of government which no longer exists.

Sleuthing for First Human

WHO WAS THE FIRST MAN? THIS IS one of the major questions of contemporary science, not content with the traditional interpretation of the Biblical story.

In layers of earth in various parts of the world are found a few fragmentary bones of human-like creatures that lived and died long before the dawn of history. This record of human evolution constitutes one of the great pieces of scientific sleuthing.

In China, not far from Peiping, near the scene of the Japanese-Chinese military and commercial struggle, over a score of ancient fossil human remains have been found at a site called Choukoutien. Sinanthropus pekinensis is the name given to these extremely primitive yet human creatures. Sinanthropus is pronounced even nearer to the apes than famous Pithecanthropus, ape man of Java.

Dr. Franz Weidenreich, visiting professor of anatomy at the Peking Union Medical College, looks both ways in time from the era of Sinanthropus and foresees that the ancient soil of Asia will bring forth relics of men both earlier and later than the men of Choukoutien. Sinanthropus was living before the great Ice Ages, the Pleistocene, began. He knew the use of fire and implements. Obviously human culture began with a human being still older. For this reason the scientists are turning to old deposits of the earth, called the Tertiary, confident that there will be found the solution of the true riddle of human evolution.

While Sinanthropus has many characteristics of modern man, Dr. Weidenreich feels that there will be found in Asia a link between him and modern men, a kind of ancient man somewhat like the Neanderthals of Europe. He is convinced that Sinanthropus is a direct ancestor of modern man, at least the Asiatic variety, and that somewhere among the direct ancestors of Sinanthropus was a creature whose future descendants included both men and apes.

Clear As Mud

SHOULD ANY OF OUR READERS BE finding it difficult to understand the fine points about Japan's undeclared "defensive" war in China we commend them to a study of this brief dispatch from Tokio:

Chinese Ambassador Hsu Shihying left Japan today "on vacation." Hsu's departure, soon to be paralleled by the return here of Shigeru Kawagoe, Japanese Ambassador to China, ushered in a new period in which Sino-Japanese relations will not be ruptured but will merely cease to exist.

Should any doubts remain after the study we recommend, it may be necessary, of course, to take into consideration the fact that the river of human blood in China is still flowing and increasing in volume from day to day.

Notes

SPEAKING OF DEFENDING VICTORIA

From the Ubysey

In other years the U.B.C. students have invaded Victoria—and left behind them a reputation for vandalism that remains to this day in the Capital City. In other years, the Alma Mater Society has been forced to foot the bills for damage caused by students during the annual Victoria Invasion.

This year, might it be too much to suggest that sanity of conduct and restraint of animal exuberance will create a more favorable impression of students among the staid, respectable citizens of our provincial capital? Maybe it's too much, but we do suggest that students can have a good time in Victoria without leaving behind them damage to property that will have to be paid for.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OPTIMISTIC MR. WELLS

THE MESSAGES of optimism which are pouring out into the world in these first days of 1938 are really most gratifying. An eminent professor in London has announced with obvious satisfaction that the approaching world war will be extremely useful because, unlike the last war, it won't kill off only the best of the world's young manhood; it will kill just as many civilians as well, so that the entire population, rather than the best part of it, will be destroyed. This is a very comforting thought to those who imagine that war is necessarily an evil.

Now, Mr. H. G. Wells is out with a really rollicking forecast of events in the next few years. He says that by 1988 men will be entirely comfortable and secure, so you only have to wait fifty years. Before that time, of course, the world will be fairly unpleasant, "millions of people are likely to die violent deaths before they have lived their lives out," but, as Mr. Wells says so comfortably, "people must die somehow." And "political history is likely to go on being even more insincere, irrational, violent, convulsive, cruel, horrible and destructive for some decades at least," but never mind, by this time in 1988 things will be all right. It is just a matter of being a little patient.

However, as you would expect, there is a catch in it. Even in 1988, says Mr. Wells, when the world is well organized, and there is no poverty and no war, and the machine does all the work, and man lives only for pleasure and comfort, people still won't be happy. They will still complain about conditions, says Mr. Wells, and they will look back on the people of 1938 as vastly happier and better off than they are.

Yes, they will envy us our wild, romantic life and they will imagine, as they live dully with their enforced leisure and their splendid machines that in 1938 every man swept splendidly through the world like Mr. Clark Gable in the movies. It will never occur to them how dull we actually were and how pessimistic when, of course, there was really nothing to be pessimistic about. You only have to be patient for a little while, for 50 years.

ECONOMIC TRUTH

NOT LONG AGO, Mr. Alfred P. Sloan Jr. of General Motors, gave $10,000,000 to be used to promote "a wider knowledge of economic truths generally accepted as such by authorities of recognized standing." Now the men entrusted with the money are wondering how to use it. Part of it they have given to the University of Chicago to use as it sees fit, but this doesn't settle anything. No two professors in the University of Chicago are likely to agree what is economic truth.

Probably it will be necessary to call in world-famed economists to say what is economic truth, but this won't do any good, either. None of the better economists agree on these things. Indeed, if any of them agreed, it would be a pretty sure sign that they didn't know anything about economic truth.

Mr. Roosevelt found that out, years ago, when he first took office. He called in the best experts he could find, and each of them told him a different thing—some that prices should go up, some that they should go down, some that he could solve all problems by tinkering with the gold content of the dollar.

Mr. Roosevelt being a politician and using the historic method of politics, achieved a compromise and followed a little bit of each of the expert opinions. He raised prices, then tried to drop them; reduced the gold content of the dollar, raised the price of silver and cut it, enforced monopolies under the N.R.A., and now is telling the country that the vicious monopolies are the whole trouble.

The poor man is the victim of the divided opinion of the experts, among whom the more eminent they are the more they disagree. One doubts that there is a single new or important economic truth on which they could combine, so it is hard to handle Mr. Sloan's $10,000,000. All the men in charge can do is to tell the public that Keynes says one thing and Marx another and Fisher something else, while Mr. McGee disagrees with everybody, and then let the public take its choice. Probably in the end it will be found that all of them are wrong. In the meanwhile, the politicians, who know nothing about economics themselves, just do what looks all right at the time, and the experts tear their hair and shout that the politicians are all wrong. But they would be in still worse trouble if they tried to follow all the experts' advice. Ask Mr. Roosevelt.

CANT AND TOURISTS

"Anti-Cant" in Vancouver Sun
We in B.C. are not to call a place of refreshment a bar, tavern or saloon; and in any advertisement referring to the Demon Rum in any of its forms the following illuminating statement must be printed in large size type: "This advertisement is not published or displayed by the Liquor Board or by the Government of British Columbia."

Our California friends defeat similar pharisaical legislation by hanging out signs announcing the purveying of alcoholic beverages reading "Aloon," "Avern," "Peer," "Puffet," "Geer Barden," "Ocktail Ounge," etc.

We in B.C. have to be content with such announcing cards as "Open for Business," "Fully Licensed," etc., and this indicates that there is what is called a beer parlor in full operation.

Why "parlors" no one knows, as it is redolent of beauty parlor, undertaking parlor, etc., but the business is carried on in an orthodox way surrounded by bootleg joints, speakeasies, clubs, etc., where everything goes.

Surely our mentality has become derailed!

One often thinks of what our good old western pioneers, who made B.C. possible, would have to say if they could return to our midst and speak feelingly and freely to us as "daffydils," "auntie's pets" and other euphonious epithets, and speculate if we slept in night caps and bed socks.

"FUNNY" WEATHER COMMENTS

To the Editor:—My brother in California recently mailed me a number of "funny" comments by the weatherman of a San Francisco paper.

I don't think he should have the field all to himself, so I enclose my comment to my brother: "The weatherman speaks of Washington and Canada, apparently not knowing that Canada is much larger than the United States and that British Columbia alone is over five times the size of Washington territory."

He says: "At Edmonton it was 30 below zero, and at Alberta 12 ducks had their quacks frozen."

He evidently thinks Alberta is a cold place far north.

He states that in the middle of winter the citizens of Vancouver wear five overcoats.

While living in San Jose, one of the entrance pupils told me "she knew a large city in Canada and she said its name was Alberta."

If this represents the knowledge of the pupils there, what can we expect from them when they grow up?

I don't think the citizens of Edmonton complain much about their below zero weather for a time, and I believe they would prefer it as a choice to living a whole season in a fog-bound district like San Francisco.

Canada varies in climate, but not more than California, Montana, Death Valley or the snow-bound central states.

At any season of the year our climate, from Victoria to Halifax, is as good as that from San Francisco to New York.

We have at Victoria usually a little snow and a 10 days' freeze, which we missed this winter, and the flowers are still blooming.

We soon forget our little freeze, knowing that we will have a whole summer of bright sunshine while San Francisco is shivering in a cold fog.

Our Midwinter Golf Tournament will be held here next month. I don't suppose you could have one in San Francisco, as you would not be able to follow the balls up to 10 a.m. or after 4 p.m.

B.C. ARCHIVES APPEAL

To the Editor:—The older residents in this city will remember the years 1893 till 1906, when Imperial troops garrisoned the naval base at Esquimalt. The units were Royal Marine Artillery, Royal Engineers and Royal Garrison Artillery. A special effort is being made to gather up all local material dealing with the officers, N.C.O.'s and men before the records are lost. There are no copies of the Official Monthly Army Lists between 1893 and 1906 to come forward and present them to Dr. Kaye Lamb for safe custody in the library. To most people an old list of any sort seems of no value, but they are of great value to students and in their name I make this appeal.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "Your gown is very tasty."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "paramour"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Millinery, seminary, artillery.
4. What does the word "eventuate" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with "si" that means "indicating lurking evil or harm"?

Answers

1. Say, "Your gown is very tasteful." 2. Pronounce paramour, first "a" as in "at," second "a" unstressed, "oo" as in look, accent first syllable. 3. Seminary. 4. To come out finally; result. "Such acts must eventuate in civil disturbances." 5. Sinister.

Parallel Thoughts

RADIO LANGUAGE

From Winnipeg Free Press

The radio, like the movies, is now one of the influences which form the common speech. Movie producers have been blamed, especially in England, for making people talk slang. The broadcasters, if they are not careful, are going to be charged with a really serious offense—making people use five-dollar words when ten-cent words would do.

2 STEPS in FIGHTING DISCOMFORT OF COLIC

1. ENTERS BODY THROUGH STOMACH AND INTESTINES TO EASE PAIN.

2. RELIEVES THROAT PAIN RAWNESS.

No family need neglect even minor head colds.

Here is what to do: Take two "Aspirin" tablets when you feel a cold coming on—with a full glass of water. Then repeat, if necessary, according to directions in each package. Relief comes very quickly.

The "Aspirin" method of relief is the way many doctors DEMAND AND GET—ASPIRIN now approve. You take "Aspirin" for relief—then if you are not improved promptly, you call the family doctor. "Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada by the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario.

Harlem Trotters
Win at Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Harlem Globe Trotters, touring basketball team, last night defeated Nanaimo, 39 to 14, before one of the largest crowds of the season. The visitors established a 30 to 0 lead in the initial half and clowned their way through the final stanza. The Globe Trotters treated the fans to some expert ball-handling and their comedy caused many laughs. In the last 10 minutes Nanaimo played with 10 men on the floor. In the preliminary, Harvey Murphy defeated the Victoria Eight Aces, 35 to 24.

Liberals Play
Island Eleven

Featured by the battle between Young Liberals and James Island at Heywood Avenue, a pair of games are listed in the Intermediate Football League for tomorrow afternoon.

The other game will see Bacpos and Cooperage meeting at a park yet to be named. Edgar Borde will referee.

The Young Liberals line-up follows: R. Moss, A. Coates, G. Mowat, L. Knapp, H. Casillo, A. Paul, R. Ralph, R. Cosier, G. Smith, C. Bell, A. Politano, R. Tuthill, E. Hetherington, R. Pearce, N. Wharf and G. Duncan.

Ice Teams Tie
In Rough Game

PORTLAND—With 14 seconds to go in the third period, Spokane Clippers scored a goal to tie the Portland Buckaroos 2 to 2 in a Coast Hockey League game here last night.

The game was rough, with Kenny and Ralph Blyth drawing five-minute penalties each for fighting after Kenny was hit on the shin with a stick. Dave Gilhooly, Clipper defenceman, was taken from the game with a broken nose, suffered when he was hit by a puck.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

JANUARY 21, 1913
(From The Times Files)

From the report of Water Commissioner Bust, presented to the City Council last evening, the inevitable course appears to be that the city must resort to the purchasing of water for the city from Esquimalt until the Sooke waterworks are available.

Three dollars a day will be paid to every laborer working for the Township of Esquimalt henceforth. In fulfillment of ante-election promises, Councilors Mesher and McAdam put through the council meeting last night a resolution adopting the standard minimum wage for all classes of work.

Lester Patrick completed arrangements today for the fancy dress carnival which is to be the feature at the Arena tomorrow night. Money prizes will be given to the winners of the many events. Special music will be provided for the occasion, while a burlesque hockey match and ice races will also be run off.

"I we can win tonight at Vancouver, Victoria has the coast championship as good as won," stated Lester Patrick, manager of the Victoria Senators, to The Times this morning, before his departure for the Terminal City.

BURNS DINNER NEXT TUESDAY

Dr. Henrietta Anderson to Propose Principal Toast at Celebration

With speech, song and music of pipes, and with the haggis of tradition well to the fore, the Victoria Burns Club will honor the memory of Robert Burns, the national bard of Scotland, at its annual dinner in the Empress Hotel Tuesday evening.

The highlight of the evening's ceremony, the proposing of the toast to "The immortal memory of Robert Burns" has been entrusted to Dr. Henrietta Anderson.

W. B. Grant, president of the club, will occupy the chair.

Other toasts will be proposed as follows: "The land of our adoption," Colonel Ross Napier, response by Attorney-General Wiemer; "The lasses," W. B. Lannagan, response by Mrs. A. M. Boyd; "Kindred societies," W. A. Jameson, response by J. R. Marr of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society.

Features of the programme

Hockey Leaders

George Mantha of Canadiens enlarged the National Hockey League's Big Seven to include eight men though the Habits were beaten 4 to 2 by Maroons last night. With a goal and an assist he tied Toe Blake, who contributed an assist in the defeat, for fifth place. No other member of the top circle gained.

The leaders follow:

DISLOCATED ELBOW LED TO NEURITIS

Could Not Straighten Her Arm

Four months ago this woman dislocated her left elbow. Although the elbow was properly set, she developed neuritis and could not straighten her arm. She was ordered to take Kruschen—with the happy result described in this letter:

"I had an accident four months ago and my elbow was seriously dislocated. Fortunately, it was set right there and then, but afterwards, I could not straighten the arm to its full extent. It was X-rayed and the surgeon told me I was inclined to be rheumatic. I was ordered to take Kruschen Salts—one teaspoonful in a glass of hot water on waking. Now I am getting along famously. The pain in my elbow is better and daily I am able to extend the arm more easily."—(Mrs.) P.

Rheumatic conditions are often the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients assist nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the natural channels.

Horoscope
SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1938
According to astrology this is an important day in planetary direction. It is a time for conferences and for adjusting tangled human relations.
While this planetary government continues rest and recreation should be sought. There is an auspicious sign for those who plan humanitarian movements, and peace efforts should be pushed.
Russia is to gain tremendously in power through new alliances in Asia, but will pay for assistance of Soviet rule in the blood of soldiers.
In the horoscope of President Roosevelt the dominating position of Mars in the aspect to Mercury is read as significant. Courage in international policies is indicated for him, but his diplomats will face bitter criticism.
Adolph Hitler is subject to a sway that is read as precluding ill health.
Women are subject to conflicting planetary influences. Many will be avid for public notice. Fashions will accent electricity in dress.
Girls should spend this day in practical tasks. They should seek peace of mind regarding lessons and home relations. The wise will cultivate domestic efficiency.
Preparation of food will assume new importance as the winter advances and the cost of living rises. Cooking again will be recognized as one of the fine arts. Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of advancement and general good fortune. Far journeys are foretold for a few.
Children born on this day probably will be of pleasing personality and artistic bent. Subjects of this sign usually have a keen interest in humanity.
Terence V. Powderly, labor leader, was born on this day 1849. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Sir Francis Bacon, philosopher and statesman, 1561, and Lord Byron, poet, 1788.

BRAZIL NAVAL SUPPLIES FROM U.S.

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—The General Electric Co. said Thursday it had received orders for $5,706,000 worth of naval construction from Brazil and the United States.

The Brazilian order calls for expenditure of $3,800,000 for electric power units and control equipment for six new destroyers, the company said. Large turbines will be built here, small ones at Lynn, Mass., switchboards at Philadelphia, Pa., and auxiliary equipment at Fort Wayne, Ind.

The United States navy order calls for $1,906,000 worth of "electric units," the company said, and also $12,500 worth of equipment for the Norfolk, Va., navy yard.

The departments of mines and education in collaboration with the Victoria School Board has arranged 14 lectures on elementary geology and mineralogy. The first will be held on Monday next at 7:30 p.m. in the Victoria High School. This has proved a popular course in the past, hundreds of students having availed themselves of the opportunity offered to increase their knowledge of rocks and minerals.

Venerable Pair Pass Milestone

Two well-known nonagenarians of Victoria West, Mrs. Margaret Cessford of 731 Mary Street and Mrs. Mary S. Thomson, who lives with her son, Mr. J. W. Thomson, at 556 Raynor Avenue, celebrated their birthdays yesterday at their respective homes.

Mrs. Cessford, who attained the ripe age of 92 years, and has lived here for half a century, received a number of callers during the afternoon and evening. With her for the occasion were her daughter, Mrs. J. C. David, with whom she lives; a son, George Cessford, also of Victoria; a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Gleason, Seattle; two granddaughters, Mrs. Dere Thomson and Miss Muriel Cessford, both of Victoria, and three great-grandchildren, Mrs. Ted Tucker, Mrs. W. Pearson and Charles Thomson.

The venerable hostess received many beautiful flowers and among the organizations which sent congratulatory messages was the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, and the minister, Rev. James Hyde, called in person to felicitate Mrs. Cessford.

MRS. MARY S. THOMSON
 By a happy coincidence, Mrs. Thomson's birthday falls on the same day as that of Mrs. Cessford, an old friend. She was 91 yesterday and received a host of good wishes and greetings from a number of callers during the afternoon and evening.

Mrs. C. J. Forbes, her niece, assisted her in receiving the guests, and in serving tea from the tea-table on which a birthday cake held the place of honor.

Many lovely flowers and other gifts were received by Mrs. Thomson from friends far and near. A resident of Victoria for nearly 30 years, Mrs. Thomson was born at Carnwath, Lanarkshire, Scotland, and came with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Watson, to Canada in 1854, on the old sailing ship Marchioness of Clyde.

The Watson family settled at the then Perry's Corner, Ontario, which later became Whitby, and were among the pioneers of the district.

Daughter of Grandee Is Pauper

MADRID (CP) — Penniless and broken by age and illness, Dolores Tellez-Giron y Domine, 78, daughter of the late Duke of Osuna and member of a once fabulously rich Spanish family, today entered a home for aged and destitute working women.

Her petition for admission said she was without means of support. When authorities granted it, she was taken by friends from the miserable room she had occupied to the institution.

Her uncle, to whose title her father succeeded, was the famous Duke of Osuna, who once was the richest man in Spain and one of the richest in the world.

BAD BREATH
 The old theory that bad breath arises in the mouth is misleading. Bad breath invariably arises from the stomach. Lypol Anti-sple cleanses the mouth, and when swallowed, neutralizes fermentative processes in the stomach, the real source of bad breath. Satisfaction or money refunded by all Vancouver Drug Co. Society

This afternoon at her home on Beach Drive, Mrs. J. A. Logan entertained with a couple of tables of bridge.

Mrs. Jas. Moggey of 234 Vancouver Street, left yesterday afternoon for Vancouver en route for Glenboro, Manitoba, to be with her mother, Mrs. Tremble, who is seriously ill.

Commander K. Mackenzie-Grieve and Mrs. Mackenzie-Grieve, Island Road, will leave shortly for San Francisco on their way to Mexico City to spend the next six weeks in the south.

Mr. and Mrs. George Valentine of Seattle were visitors in Victoria for the Wattle-Bullen nuptials and were the guests of Mrs. Valentine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ruggles, the Uplands while in Victoria.

Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson will leave tomorrow afternoon for Seattle, where they will be guests of Dean and Mrs. David Thomson. Dr. Wilson will return home Monday, but Mrs. Wilson will remain in Seattle for a week.

Mr. John Garrett, U.B.C. student prominent in the Players' Club, is in St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, undergoing an operation on his knee for a football injury he suffered at Victoria College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Garrett of Oak Bay.

Miss Elizabeth Ruggles, the Uplands, went over to Vancouver last night to join Mr. and Mrs. Harry Boyce of Vancouver on a week-end skiing party at Mount Baker. This afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Allan Fraser, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Wilson, were among a party of Victorians who left for Vancouver on their way to Mount Baker to spend the week-end skiing.

Of interest to many in Victoria is the announcement of the engagement in Olympia yesterday of Miss Caroline Winifred Schmidt, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Daniel Schmidt, to Matthew Fontaine Murray of Olympia. The engagement was announced at a large tea and reception given by the bride-elect's mother in honor of her daughter, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Alexander Schmidt and Miss Waynette Bridgford, who will soon wed Mr. Adolph Schmidt Jr.

News has just been received by Mrs. D. Barclay-Ross, University Hill, Vancouver, of the death of her uncle, Col. Sir Buchanan Scott, R.E. (retired), at his London residence after a very brief illness. Sir Buchanan is well known among the many retired Indian Army officers living in this province, as well as among the older members of the Vancouver and Quadra clubs in Vancouver, and of the Union Club in Victoria. He is survived by his widow, Lady Effie Scott, one daughter, Roma, at home, and only son, Ivor, in India, and a niece Annie, wife of Surgeon Rear-Admiral D. Hoskyn, R.N. of Devon, England.

Style Show Luncheon Planned

A fashion show luncheon will be staged by the Junior Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital at the Empress Hotel on Wednesday, March 16. Arrangements for the affair were made at a special meeting of the auxiliary held yesterday at the nurses' home, when Mrs. W. B. Wilson and Mrs. N. Van der Vliet were named general conveners.

Mrs. C. A. Watson, the president, was in the chair, the meeting being arranged to coincide with the weekly meeting held by the handbagging committee of the W.A.

Several committees were named, among these being the following: Transportation, Mrs. C. L. Aylard, Mrs. Van der Vliet and Mrs. R. B. Horton; tickets, Mrs. A. J. Gray, Mrs. C. E. Blaney, Mrs. Spence and Miss P. McConnan; advertising, Mrs. H. W. Blenkinsop, Mrs. J. M. Lomax and Mrs. P. McLoughlin; flowers, Mrs. George Tyson.

The fashion show luncheon will be the second of such affairs held by the W.A., the first last year being one of the outstanding events of the season and which attracted a large crowd to the ballroom of the Empress Hotel.

Clothes will be shown by Madame Runge, W. & J. Wilson, and Foster's Fur Store. A number of attractive mannequins will be chosen to model the clothes.

Mrs. William Sloan went over to Vancouver yesterday, called by the death of her brother, Mr. Alexander McDougall, who passed away at his residence, 1139 Beach Avenue, in his 42nd year. He leaves his mother and four sisters.

Miss Ethne Gale of Saanichton is among the party of skiers who, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Don Munday of Vancouver, are spending a skiing holiday at the Forbidden Plateau. Capt. Rex Gibson, well-known Edmonton skier, is also with the party.

In honor of her parents, Mr. John Irwin, M.P., of Calgary, and Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. Ruth Armstrong entertained at the tea-hour yesterday afternoon at her home on Bond Street. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. M. Carter, Mrs. J. Murray Cameron, Miss Dorothy Cameron, Judge and Mrs. W. C. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. C. French, Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fair, Mr. and Mrs. R. Davey, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harman, Colonel and Mrs. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. F. Saunders, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Paddon. Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, who came to Victoria in December, and who have been resident in The Cathay Apartment Hotel, will leave next week for their home in Alberta.

Miss Adele Moser, whose marriage to Mr. Desmond Leahy will take place next week, was the guest of honor last night at a kitchen shower given by Mrs. M. O'Connell at her home on Cook Street. Upon her entrance into the living-room the bride-to-be found a "Princess" steamer which had been fashioned from a clothes basket decorated with blue and white crepe paper and was laden with many useful gifts for the kitchen. Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening, also fortune-telling of Mrs. A. Couture. Later a buffet supper was served from a table arranged with blue and white streamers and centred with a pink begonia, lighted by tall blue candles. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leahy, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Craven, Mr. and Mrs. J. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, Mr. and Mrs. B. Baines, Mr. and Mrs. M. O'Connell, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lineham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Doherty, Mr. and Mrs. L. Moser, Mr. and Mrs. H. Fogden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warburton, Mr. and Mrs. L. Westdale, Misses Bernadette Moser, Nora O'Connell, Virginia Severs, Norah Leahy and Messrs. Bert Gibbs, T. O'Connell, D. Leahy, Bob Meyers and M. Harmon.

Mrs. W. P. Regan, Pandora Avenue, lent her home yesterday afternoon for the first tea to be held by the newly formed sewing circle of St. Andrew's Cathedral. Mrs. Regan was assisted in receiving by Mrs. H. Hartnell, president of the circle. A large number of guests, including Bishop Cody, clergy of St. Andrew's Cathedral and Brothers Walsh and English of St. Louis College,

Leonard Cannon was elected president at the annual meeting, succeeding T. Wilson. Other officers are as follows: First vice-president, Grace Beschell; second vice-president, Edward Slater; secretary, Dorothy Howard; treasurer, Marguerite Anderregg; council representatives, Frances Wood and Mun Hope; group leaders, Josephine Cook, W. J. McDowell, Lillian Braithwaite, George Enoch; honorary councillor, William Anderson; councillor-at-large, B. Dymond. Rev. A. E. Whitehouse presided. It was decided to send a drama representative to the Young People's Drama Festival committee meeting next Wednesday night at the Belmont Church. The oratorical contest, set temporarily for March, was also considered.

News of Clubwomen

To ensure their publication, reports of meetings of organizations or groups should be sent in within two days of their happening. Nothing intended for this column on Saturday must be written and handed in not later than Friday.

Orange Juvenile Association, Pride of Victoria No. 55, will meet in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, on Saturday at 2.30, when initiation will take place.

A business meeting of the St. Matthews A.Y.P.A. was held on Wednesday when the programme for the spring term was discussed. The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 2.

The King's Daughters' annual meeting will be held on Monday at 7.45 p.m. in the rest room Hibben-Bone Building. District, rest room and circle reports will be heard, and district officers elected for ensuing year.

The annual meeting of St. Martin-in-the-Field Ladies' Guild was held recently. The meeting was opened with prayer by Canon H. W. G. Stocker. Annual reports were received, read and adopted. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Gilbert; secretary, Mrs. J. Knight; treasurer, Miss A. Stocker. A "valentine tea" is being arranged for February 9 in the parish hall from 3 to 6 p.m. There will be stalls of home cooking, fancy work, etc. Among the many attractions will be a "valentine box." Admission will be free, with a small charge for tea.

W.B.A. Review No. 1 met in the A.O.F. Hall, Monday evening, with the president, Mrs. Jean Bowden, presiding. During the meeting, Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Trousdale, Mrs. Malcolm and Mrs. Taylor were presented with gifts for long service. Mrs. Yeamans and Miss Muir were given small tokens as retiring officers. Mrs. Ada Davis was appointed member of the executive committee. The members stood in silent tribute to the memory of Mrs. Bertha Andrews, a pioneer member of the Review, who passed away January 14 in Norwood, Mass. After the meeting a card party was held with the following prize winners: First, bridge, Mrs. McAllister; second, Mrs. Watson; third, Mrs. Elliott; first, Mrs. Thorenstenson; second, Mrs. Taylor, and consolation, Mrs. Morris. Mrs. Henson was the winner of a sweater.

Fairfield W.M.S. met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. Piercy, Linden Avenue, her circle being in charge of the programme and tea arrangements. Mrs. G. Green, the president, had charge of the devotional period and finished the work of 1937. Rev. N. J. Cress gave an address of appreciation of the society's work during the year, and conducted an impressive service when he inducted the new officers. Mrs. Green appointed five circles, including all the members. Mrs. Dyson read a temperance article; Mrs. C. A. Fields spoke on Christian stewardship and systematic giving, and urged the members to use the envelopes. Mrs. W. H. Yardley gave an interesting review of the third chapter of the study book, "The New Church Faces the New World," and spoke of the work of the United Church on the prairie and in the foreign mission field. The members were reminded of the Presbyterian meeting next week, and were asked to attend. Birth-day greetings were sent to Miss Armstrong, a former member, and to Miss Milson, who is on the sick list. After the meeting, a social half-hour was enjoyed and tea served.

BLACKHEADS
Blackheads go quickly by a simple method that just dissolves them. Get two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist, rub this with a hot, wet cloth gently over the blackheads—and you will wonder where they have gone. Have a Hollywood complexion.

I like POLIFLOR

BECAUSE MY FLOORS LOOK SO MUCH NICER SINCE I STARTED TO USE POLIFLOR!

In POLIFLOR, several waxes and a special antiseptic are expertly blended to give a long-wearing, satin-lustre, germ-free finish to floors.

This quality wax at popular prices is a Nugget product!

Poliflor WAX

Glove Is Handy

"What did I do with my gloves?" is one question Gloria Swanson doesn't ask any more. If the movie star leaves them on a counter while shopping, it is because she forgot to hang them on her belt, as you see above. Links on the glove cuffs make it easy to slip them on the spring hook attached to her belt.

STRAWBERRY VALE

STRAWBERRY VALE—Wilkinson Road Women's Auxiliary held its monthly meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. Hoy, Wellington Road. Mrs. A. J. Rainer and Mrs. J. Hoy were elected to act on the parsonage committee. Arrangements were made for a tea and sale of home cooking at the parsonage January 26; and a supper in the schoolroom on February 16 at 6.30 p.m. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Rainer.

The annual meeting of Wilkinson Road United Church was held Tuesday. Rev. W. Allan presided. A. E. Campion presented the semi-annual and financial reports, the latter showing adverse balances in connection with the missionary and general funds. N. McGillivray presented the report from the board of session.

Miss Eva Phillips presented a report from the Sunday school showing the year closed with a credit balance of $23. Mrs. A. Allison gave the report from the Women's Missionary Auxiliary, which showed $137 had been raised.

The report from the Women's Auxiliary was presented by Mrs. A. J. Rainer, showing $292 had been raised toward the shingling of the church and the general up-keep of church and parsonage property. Mrs. G. Jones gave the choir report and a unanimous vote of appreciation was tendered D. W. Phillips, choir-leader, and Miss Margaret Pringle, organist.

The following were elected to the board of stewards: Mrs. W. Allison, A. E. Campion, G. Jones and F. Green.

Reference was made to the fact that D. Lehman had been a member of the board of stewards for 40 years, and as a token of high esteem, he was unanimously elected an honorary member of the board.

SOCIETY

Mrs. A. M. Denholm of Victoria was among those presiding at the tea table when Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Turvey of Chilliwack entertained a large number of friends at their home recently in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary.

Miss Mary Campbell, Linden Avenue, left this afternoon for the mainland on a trip to Eastern Canada and the States. While in the east Miss Campbell will visit relatives and friends in London, Toronto, in Reading, Penn., and in New York. She expects to return to Victoria in a couple of months' time.

Town Guilds For Women Popular

New Movement To Encourage Citizenship Grows

LONDON—All over England, Scotland and Wales there are women wearing a gay little badge, on a white ground, and the letters "T.G." in yellow, and around the edge are entwined a rose, a thistle and a daffodil.

This is the badge of the National Union of Townswomen's Guilds, which is bringing to women in towns what Women's Institutes and other organizations give to their sisters in country districts.

"Our idea is to encourage women to use their minds," an official said this week. "We are strictly non-political and non-sectarian."

"On any social problem that may arise, we endeavour to get our members to study it and learn all about it. But we do not try to persuade them as to what decision they should make."

The members are of all types, rich and poor, with different political and religious creeds. Each guild arranges its own programme, and specializes in the things which interest its members most—it may be some handicraft-like weaving, or politics or acting or child welfare.

"Brief our aims are these," she continued, "to encourage the education of women to enable them as citizens to make their best contribution towards the common good and to serve as a common meeting ground for women, irrespective of creed and party, for their wider education, including social intercourse."

These guilds are proving immensely popular in the "distressed" areas of Durham, Tyndale and South Wales, I learned. In 1928 there were five guilds. Now there are 458 with an average membership of 100 each. Three new guilds are being formed this month in London boroughs, and there is great demand for them in the ever-growing housing estates where women find it difficult, on their own, to make friends with their neighbors.

Victoria West Church Meets

The annual congregational meeting of the Victoria West United Church was held on Tuesday evening, Rev. J. W. Churchill presiding. Unusually gratifying reports were received from the various organizations, showing conscientious effort on the part of the members. The following were re-elected as members of the session: W. Caley, A. J. Nelson, H. Wilson, A. W. Wright, C. Milley, H. Watson and Mrs. G. W. Johnson. The following were re-elected as members of the board of stewards: Wm. F. Perry, Geo. Guy, H. Watson, Capt. G. M. Newell, A. W. Wright, Wm. Caley, Capt. J. Gidley, W. Moore, Wm. McDonald, G. Weismiller, Mr. Colton, Mrs. W. Beattie, Mrs. L. A. Young, Mrs. G. Guy, F. Neelands and Mr. Goodwin. The following officers were re-lected: Envelope steward, Wm. Caley; missionary maintenance steward, W. F. Perry; treasurer, A. W. Wright; trustee board representative, Capt. G. M. Newell; clerk of session, Wm. Caley; recording steward, L. A. Young. W. Caley placed on record the session's appreciation of the services rendered by the pastor,

Rev. C. D. Clarke, noting particularly the increased attendance at services and a spiritual blessing in the life of the members. This expression was heartily endorsed by the congregation. The solos rendered by Mrs. H. Youson and Geo. Guy were greatly appreciated. Refreshments were served by the Women's Association. CITY TEMPLE Y.P.S. The Victoria City Temple Y.P.S. heard Eric Marshall at their last meeting. Mr. Marshall spoke on "Public Speaking In Our Everyday Life." He gave some very good points on public speaking, and he also had several members try it out, a variety of topics were chosen and those taking part were: Agnes Johnson, Elsie Findlay, Dora Gascoign, Andrew Swalak, Charlie Lewis, Cyril Carter and Mr. Snider. A debate is being planned by the executive at which Mr. Marshall will be present as constructive critic. Next meeting Pearl Findlay, Agnes Johnson and Cyril Carter will give short talks on devotion. An Englishman has patented in the United States a camera, which not only takes moving pictures but can be used to project them on a screen.

Near Sell-out For Braddock-Farr Fight

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

LIKE A BOLT out of the blue came the announcement Wednesday that Charlie Conacher, colorful right-winger of the Toronto Maple Leafs, had hung up his skates for all time. The fact he was supposed to pack the fastest shot in big-time hockey and that he came from one of Canada's best-known athletic families, made Conacher one of the best-known figures in the great winter sport.

Owing to his size, he tipped the scales around the 200 mark, blinding shot and powerhouse tactics when he hit an opposing defence, Conacher got a big play from the sport writers, while Foster Hewitt, radio announcer for the games in Toronto, always was partial to the "big bomber." As a result Conacher became a sort of legend with the Toronto club and for that reason was one of the most popular players in the league. However, for the last few weeks it has been noticeable the big fellow was not playing up to form. Conny Smythe, manager of the club, gave further proof of the fact Conacher was slipping when he moved him off the number one line.

Conacher's career in the major league has been a colorful one. During his nine years with the Leafs Charlie fired 210 goals. He got an even 200 in National League games. His best goal-scoring season was in 1934-35, when he bagged 56 and aided in 21 others to lead all N.H.L. scorers. That was the second successive year he led the scoring parade. Last season Conacher, out of the game for a greater part of the time with a fractured wrist, got only seven goals and gave nine assists.

Unless all shrewd reckoning is wrong, Moe and Abe are about to reach the end of perhaps, the most glorious trail ever trudged by manager and fighter alike. Moe and Abe are the affectionate names Joe Gould and James J. Braddock call each other. Their friendship bloomed in defeat and oblivion.

On his word of honor, Gould has promised fight writers he will never allow "Abe" to fight professionally again if he loses his comeback try against Tommy Farr tonight. "If Farr beats him by a fair margin I will tell Abe to hang up his mittens forever. And he will," said Moe. "He means far too much to me—and to his countless friends—for me to watch him battered, bit by bit and fight by fight, into a hopeless hulk of a man."

Writing in his column in The Seattle P.I., Royal Brougham expresses the opinion held by a lot of boxing fans on Braddock's comeback. The item follows:

"Jim Braddock will never be ready for Farr or anybody else, because he is far past the time when he can be ready for anything more strenuous than a swing in the porch hammock. Matches like this are what earn for boxing the name of Sordid Science. The courageous Jersey heavyweight was only a mediocre fighter when 30,000 of us saw him beat Max Baer a couple of years ago. He was a battered has-been after Joe Louis gave him a terrible waxing last June. With enough money to provide him a comfortable living for his wife and kiddies the rest of his days, the game and willing ex-Cinderella man is dragged out of the rocking chair to fight again so some manager's purse can be sweetened. Win, lose or draw, it ain't right."

Welshman Heavy Favorite to Win Battle Tonight

Both Fighters in Great Shape With Farr Enjoying Physical Edge

Braddock Ready

NEW YORK—The second big heavyweight brawl of the indoor season takes place at the Garden tonight, between Jim Braddock, the ex-champion, and Tommy Farr, the terrible Welshman.

The Garden virtually was a sell-out, with a gross of over $90,000 predicted by Promoter Mike Jacobs. Last month's bout between Max Schmeling and Harry Thomas did only about $75,000.

Farr, largely on the strength of having gone 15 rounds with Champion Joe Lewis without becoming a total loss, remained a favorite in the heavy betting at odds of 8 to 5 and 7 to 5. He was a logical choice over his 32-year-old opponent, who lost his crown to Louis last summer by a knockout.

Braddock, though, didn't lack supporters. There were those who thought he might nail the Welshman some time during the 10 rounds, possibly with an uppercut.

That appeared to be Jim's only real chance. Farr, who was a terrific flop in training for his bout with Louis, has made an impression on the experts this time. He has brought himself into near perfect condition, and is a powerful fellow.

EXPECT FARR TO PRESS
The expectation was that Farr would start climbing all over Braddock from the first bell, like he did against Louis, depending upon his iron jaw to withstand Jim's jolts and gambling his youth and vigor would wear the veteran down. He posed a tough test for Braddock, who has sworn to hang up the gloves if he's soundly beaten.

Louis, who watched Braddock box in camp two days ago, thought Jim looked good. So has everybody else, nearly. He has over a month of steady training behind him. His eyes are clear and his torso firm. The only thing nobody can tell except Jim is the amount of spring left in his legs.

All the physical advantages, except for an inch and a half in height, were in Farr's favor. The Welshman was expected to weigh in at 204 pounds at noon today, with Braddock about 195. At 24, Farr had a pull of eight years over the former champion.

Farr looks upon tonight's scrap only as a stepping stone to very big things, the first being a match with Max Baer in March.

Braddock said only: "I feel good and I'm ready for this clambake to start."

SIX HEAVIES BOOKED HERE
Leading Matmen Will Appear on Tomorrow Night's Card at Empire Theatre
Noted for his famous octopus hold and the fine manner in which he can dish out punishment with his elbows, "Lofty" Blomfield, New Zealand heavy champion, will meet Victoria's Chief Thunderbird on tomorrow night's mat card at the Empire Theatre in the top half of the double main event.

Danny Dusek, Omaha grappler, and Chief Little Wolf will appear in the second half of the double feature. This will be the Chief's second appearance before local fans. He is said to be among the best in the grappling game now showing on the coast. Dusek has appeared here many times and has proven himself a capable opponent.

Cup Football Game Tomorrow

Tomorrow's only first division soccer match will see Victoria City and the Garrison meet at the Athletic Park at 2.15 in the semi-final round of the Freddy Price Memorial Cup series. Overtime will be played if necessary.

MacPHAIL IS NOW DODGER

Joins Brooklyn Ball Club As Vice-president; Will Trade Anybody

NEW YORK—Red-headed Leland Stanford (Larry) MacPhail, the man who introduced night baseball, usherettes and modern color schemes to the big league at Cincinnati, Wednesday became executive vice-president of the Brooklyn Club.

MacPhail signaled his return to the game by signing a three-year contract at $20,000 per year. He left the Reds in November, 1936, after being general manager three seasons, lifting them from eighth to fifth place in the National League, and starting old-timers with his innovations.

MacPhail has been given full authority to reorganize the stricken and financially harassed Dodgers, together with their farm system, but the first thing his interviewers wanted to know yesterday was:

"What's going to happen to Van Mungo?"

"First let me say that I'm willing to trade anybody connected with the club, including Manager Burleigh Grimes or MacPhail, if it will help the team," replied the new head man.

SENIOR B RUGBY

On Sunday at the Admirals Road ground the Navy and Canadian Scottish senior B rugby teams will meet in a postponed game starting at 2.30.

With the match score of their present tour standing at 3 to 2 in favor of Ellsworth Vines, the famous California tennis star will resume his battle with Fred Perry, England, former world amateur champion, when the troupe of professionals perform at the Bay Street Armories tonight, starting at 8. With a sell-out of the reserved seats announced today by officials of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, sponsors of the exhibition, well over 1,000 will be on hand to watch the world-famous stars in action.

Accompanying Perry and Vines, who arrived in Victoria on the afternoon boat from Vancouver, were two other well-known court aces, Berkeley Bell and Walter Senior, former Canadian amateur singles title-holder.

Bell and Senior will open the program with a singles match to be followed on the courts by Perry and Vines. A doubles event will be the final exhibition and will see Perry and Senior oppose Vines and Bell.

Tonight's Vines-Perry match should be a thriller as the English star is expected to make every effort to tie the match score at three wins apiece.

Normie Smith Sprawls on Ice to Save

Normie Smith, Red Wing goalie, was as busy as the lap-checkers at a six-day bicycle race in making this save by a shave in the third period of the Detroit club's fourth consecutive loss of the season to the Rangers at Madison Square Garden. The puck can be seen beneath the handle of the upset goalie's stick. New York won 4 to 1.

Underdogs Rise Up In Hockey Battles

Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings Score Important Wins

For the next two weeks at least teams in the National Hockey League are likely to find themselves practically snubbed while interest centres on the efforts of laggards like Detroit Red Wings and Montreal Maroons to catch up with the play-off parade.

It was demonstrated last night there is every possibility they will be in the thick of the fight shortly. Both the world champions and the Montrealers defeated the teams they must beat out for the prized third place.

Maroons whipped Canadiens 4 to 2 in Montreal and Jack Adams' Wings took Chicago Black Hawks in Detroit by the same score. That left Maroons only two games behind Habitants, third-place club in the Canadian division, and Wings three behind Chicago.

Meanwhile New York Americans were taking advantage of the slipping Canadiens by holding Toronto Maple Leafs to a 1 to 1 tie in New York and moving

Pedens Featured In "Pic" Magazine

Victoria's big-time bikers, "Torchy" and Doug Pedens, crash the national magazine spotlight in February's edition of the new picture publication "Pic." A six-page supplement carrying 28 pictures of the Victoria boys and their companions of the pine-saucer, features the local athletes under the caption "The Pedaling Pedens."

In addition to pictures of "Torchy" and Doug riding, resting, eating and dressing, the magazine also shows a group of the pair with Victoria's Lynn Patrick and MacColville of the New York Rangers. Jams, spills and other highlights of the game are displayed.

ing into the Canadian section's second place, a half game ahead of the Montrealers, with whom they had been tied.

Both the Maroon and Red Wing wins were decisive. Three goals fired in the third period brought the world champions victory, with the winning tally coming from the stick of Eddie Wares, the Philadelphia Rumber Adams borrowed to bolster his Wings.

TWO QUICK GOALS

There were only 71 seconds of the game left and the score was tied 2 to 2 when Rookie Wares, a Calgary youngster, took Bucko McDonald's pass and after a nice bit of stickhandling beat Mike Karkas. Hee-Kiree got the extra goal 22 seconds later.

In the second period Johnny Sorrell had tied Louis Trudel's first-session marker and early in the third Syd Howe scored his second goal of the season to put Detroit ahead. Carl Voss knotted the count again half way through the period and they battled on even terms until Wares' winning goal.

Stew Evans and Herb Cain gave Maroons a 2 to 0 advantage in the first period. Polly Drouin brought Canadiens within striking distance in the second but Bob Gracie wiped out his marker and Paul Runge's goal for Maroons in the third nullified George Mantha's counter for the Habitants.

Without Charlie Conacher, Leafs played a ragged game at New York and Americans seemed no better. Buzz Boll, a line mate of Conacher, stood out for the Toronto team and scored their goal in the second chapter.

Within a minute Hooley Smith flipped the tying goal over the prostrate Turk Broda after a passing bout with Jack Shill and Joe Jerwa in front of the Toronto cage.

Summaries follow:

Alumni Seeking Playoff Berth

St. Louis College Alumni will be out to pin back the ears of the Wimpy's Crescents cagers tonight at the High School—their only chance left to keep in the riding for a playoff berth in the intermediate A boys' division of the Victoria and District Basketball League. If the collegians win tonight they will be tied for third place with Chinese Students, which will necessitate a playoff between these two squads to determine who will take over the third berth in the finals.

Another keen battle should be witnessed when Liberty Cafe and West Road meet in the final attraction on the evening's show, which will open at 8.

Cup Football In Britain Tomorrow

Both English and Scottish Elvens Will Engage in Important Duels

GLASGOW—Fifty-four teams, scattered all over Scotland, will pry the lid off the Scottish Football Cup competition tomorrow. The first-round line-up includes all major league clubs—20 first and 18 second division—and 16 representatives from minor circuits. The final is scheduled for April 23.

The general aim is to topple Celtic from its perch as cupholder, while the Celts, in turn, are primed for a double triumph—cup and league.

In this "one defeat and you're out" competition upsets are not unusual.

Of the 27 matches carded, only six involve teams of equal status, three in each division. Feature attractions are billed for Glasgow.

Heading the card is the All-Glasgow match between Third Lanark and Celtic, on the former's ground. Next in line is the Clyde-Motherwell clash at Shawfield Park, Glasgow, while St. Johnstone and Arbroath meet in the other big league battle.

Leader by four points of the second division, Raith Rovers entertain Montrose, Brechin City goes to Cowdenbeath, and Airdrieonians are visited by East Fife.

Budge and Mako In Tennis Wins

ADELAIDE, Australia—Don Budge and Gene Mako, United States contenders for the Australian lawn tennis championship, won their first round matches today. Budge won from Australian Lester Hancock, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, and Mako defeated Australian Lionel Brodie, 6-3, 9-7, 6-4.

Canada Invited to Send Representative Squad in 1939 or 1941

TORONTO—Fulfillment of hopes long entertained by Canadian cricketers—test matches against England and other Empire countries—has been brought a step nearer by an invitation from the Marylebone Cricket Club for a team from the Dominion to visit England in 1939 or 1941.

Impressed by the showing of Canadian players in England in 1936 and against the M.C.C. touring team in Canada last summer, the governing body of cricket is anxious to have a representative Dominion team oppose first class and minor county teams and Oxford and Cambridge Universities.

Good performances against such opposition, it is believed, would result in the English officials considering the possibility of test matches between the two countries at a later date.

E. S. Loney, captain of Toronto Cricket Club who played on Hon. R. C. Matthews' Canadian team in England and against the M.C.C. here, declared Thursday the invitation would give Canadian cricket a real lift.

season—Glasgow Rangers open the current campaign at Alloa. Although they have slipped badly in league warfare since the new year, the Light Blues are placed near the top of trophy "probables."

Hearts, standard bearers three times, the last in 1901, should have little difficulty against Dundee United tomorrow. The Edinburgh team is one point behind Celtic in league activities.

Thunderbird Aggregation to Number 400; Fine Athletic Programme

Macdonald Park, the Victoria High School gym and the Capital City generally will echo the cheers of nearly 400 University of British Columbia students tomorrow as Thunderbird athletic teams and their supporters descend on Victoria in a revival of the old "Varsity Invasion."

Formerly an annual event, the Varsity invasion was discontinued for several years because of financial obstacles. It will be renewed with more vigor than before, tomorrow, however, when the Point Grey institution pits its athletic might against the best of local representation in rugby, basketball, swimming and grass hockey.

The blue and gold is scheduled to arrive en masse on the specially chartered Princess Norah at 1.

MAIN FEATURES

The two main features on the invasion programme tomorrow will be the McKechnie Cup match at Macdonald Park and the Varsity-Dominions basketball game at the Victoria High School gym. The former will take place at 2.45 and the latter at 7.30.

In both of these highlight attractions Varsity will be out to repeat their former triumphs against the same local squads while Victoria, although on the short end of the odds in the big three rugby fixture, favor the Dominions to decide the Thunderbird hoop might on the Fernwood institution floor.

On the lower field at Macdonald Park Victoria College and the Varsity second rugby fifteen will meet in an exhibition game scheduled to commence at 1.45. Benny McMillan will handle the whistle. Although the Thunderbirds snowed under Victoria's Crimson Tide in their initial McKechnie Cup encounter, rep Coach Wally Brynjolfson has put the locals through a stiff training grind during the past few weeks and feels

Oak Bay Proud of Financial Standing

Year Reviewed By Reeve and Council at Annual Meeting

In 60 minutes last night members of the Oak Bay Council, School Board and Police Commission gave accounts of their stewardship during 1937 to a small meeting of Oak Bay residents in the Municipal Hall. Reeve R. R. Taylor presided and told the meeting the past year had been kind to Oak Bay, that there had been perfect co-operation and that everyone had worked harmoniously.

Oak Bay returned all its public officers by acclamation and an election tomorrow will not be necessary.

Reeve Taylor compared last year with 1927. In 10 years expenditures had risen $54,000, he said. In 1927 hospital expenditure had been $3,000; in 1937 it was approximately $2,700 higher. The police department cost $3,800; garbage disposal, $2,600, and street lighting, $4,000.

"If we listened to the demands of everyone it would have cost $10,000," he said. "If you buy a cheap lot on an unfinished street, don't come to the council and say you want it fixed. We will be glad to pave it, but the cost must be borne by the residents of that street."

The municipality had 605 reverted lots at a valuation of over $90,000, Reeve Taylor said.

"We could do quite a lot if we could sell all those lots," he said.

Last year 92 new homes, at a valuation of $323,000 had been erected. Since 1912, only 1930 and 1931 exceeded last year in building figures, the reeve said. Library service last year cost the municipality $4,800; 228,000 gallons of water consumed cost $17,000.

Growth in a municipality and increase in population, while it was naturally welcomed "was not all velvet," the reeve said, for they meant added expenditures.

FINANCIAL REPORT

Councillor Richard Angus, chairman of the finance committee, in his annual report said the municipality had collected 92.3 per cent of its taxes, which was very close to the highest in the history of Oak Bay. At the beginning of the year the council estimated only 86 per cent would be collected.

The year closed with only $2,600 in delinquent taxes on the books, he said. A total of $22,000 in delinquent taxes was collected.

Despite this "very rosy" report, Councillor Angus said, there would be no reduction in taxation this year. He said he foresaw new expenditures during the coming year; the council hoped also to do some necessary work; there would be no tax arrears to collect, for they were all collected in 1937.

"I request you not to expect too much, or ask too much, unless you are prepared to pay for it," he said.

The year was closed with a cash balance in the bank of $72,549. Councillor Angus reported, which was $20,000 more than when the year started.

PUBLIC WORKS REPORT

Councillor William Ellis, chairman of the public works committee, said there had been steady progress in 1937, but that nothing spectacular had been undertaken.

New paving had amounted to 4,000 feet; roads were maintained in their usual fairly good condition; 600 additional feet to the Beach Drive footpath had been laid and another 600 or 1,000 feet were contemplated in 1938; 800 feet of footpath had been laid near Monterey School; a good approach made to Gonzales Bay; 4,000 feet of new surface drainage was laid; street lights were being increased gradually and a complete survey was being undertaken to find out where they were needed most; the Willows Park had been improved; garbage collection was increasing; the garbage trucks having traveled 13,000 miles in 1937, and a few trees had been uprooted.

"The council is very jealous of the trees in Oak Bay and we do not come to a hasty conclusion about uprooting any of them," he said, "unless they are interfering with surface drains or are a menace."

SCHOOL BOARD

R. W. Murdoch, newly appointed chairman of the school board, briefly traced the board's activities during 1937. During the last five years the school population had remained the same, he said, and the expenditures were the same. The board spent $96,000 in 1937, $70,000 going for salaries. Oak Bay's schools had a registration of 950 pupils, he said. Improvements had been carried out at the High School during the year.

A. E. Mallett, police commissioner, said the police department had an enviable record. There had been no serious crime during the year and not a fatal accident had occurred in the municipality since July of 1934.

Reeve Taylor paid tribute to the inside and outside staffs, to Chief of Police John Syme, who had been chief of the municipality 25 years, and to S. J. Drake, who has retired from Oak Bay public life after giving 10 years of service to the municipality as councillor, school trustee and reeve.

The meeting passed a vote of thanks to all members of the public bodies for their excellent work in 1937.

About 250 varieties of honey are produced in the United States, but only about a tenth of these are important commercially.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrh of the nose, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist one ounce of Epsom (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Paracetamol is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure in the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the result is given air, nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing, rumbling, humming sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Says Harmony Would Bring Water Results

Councillor Watson, Reeve Crouch and Saanich Candidates Speak

Again attacking Reeve Crouch for his dictatorial attitude, Councillor John Watson declared that if Saanich worked in harmony with the city something might be done for the municipality on the water question, at a Ward Five election meeting in the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall, yesterday evening.

He spoke on the same platform as Reeve Crouch, who is seeking re-election, the candidates for the school board and the police commission, and the three candidates for councillor in Ward Five, Councillor John Oliver, Henry Robinson and R. M. McIntosh.

There was also an election meeting in Ward Six at the Keating Temperance Hall, where the candidates for reeve, school board and police commission also spoke. Councillor L. C. Hagan, who is unopposed in his ward, gave an account of his stewardship.

Following his speech, in which he called for a business administration of the municipality, Councillor Watson was questioned on the $87,000 which he said was missing from the water works fund.

"Where is the money? Why didn't you object to the accounts when you were on the council?" he was asked.

Councillor Watson explained that he did not go through the books.

"Figures can lie," he said, "and there are wheels within wheels."

GAS SHOVEL

"Tell us the history of the gas shovel," a man in the audience asked.

Councillor Watson said he was against the purchase of a new shovel because the old one was in working condition.

"Tell us the history of the shovel," the man persisted, but the chairman, H. C. Oldfield, brought order.

"Can you explain why the bonds of the municipality are so high?" the councillor was questioned.

"Do you think they'll be the same in 1944?" he replied.

The questioner thought so, but the candidate declared that nothing was certain.

"You won't own your home in three years if you don't pay the taxes," the candidate declared.

REEVE CROUCH

Reeve Crouch said that he did not know of any council in British Columbia which was more careful of its accounts than Saanich. For even the smallest amount, cheques were issued which had to be passed by the clerk, the reeve, the chairman of the finance committee and finally when they were returned from the bank were checked by the auditors.

At the beginning of each month a list of cheques was given to each member of the council.

The reeve listed the exact expenses on the wall question as $137.13 for the trip of the engineer and clerk to the United States and $36.15 for entertaining Strasser.

"It's the old story of let's have a change," Reeve Crouch said. "What businessman fires his employee who has served him loyally and well?"

Councillor Oliver, who is seeking re-election in Ward Five, gave an account of his stewardship. He said that $7,800 had been spent in the ward, a third of which had gone into construction of the Cordova Bay road. He declared that he voted for the purchase of a new gas shovel because most of the Saanich road equipment was obsolete and should be slowly replaced.

FOR TAX REDUCTION

Henry Robinson, seeking election as councillor in Ward Five, declared that he believed that taxes could be reduced. The excuse given for raising the mill rate was unemployment relief, but now that had been removed the mill rate was still at the same height.

He said that road work should be permanent. He criticized the engineer and declared that Saanich did not need and could not afford a full-time engineer.

R. M. McIntosh, seeking election as councillor in Ward Five, said that he felt he knew how to examine propositions and come to decisions without abrupt judgment from 25 years in various organizational work.

Finances were earmarked, but he would try to make as fair an expenditure as possible.

Dr. Stan Miles, candidate for the school board, said he had no criticisms to offer. He felt he could make a fair job on the board and he had some constructive ideas. He said ill-health had prevented him from taking part in the campaign earlier in the week.

Trustee A. G. Hull, seeking re-election to the school board, and

CONSUL TELLS OF LIBERIA

R. P. Clark Speaks to Rotary Club on Negro Republic in Africa

R. P. Clark, U.S. Consul here, interested Victoria Rotarians yesterday with a graphic account of Liberia, where he spent six years, during which time he was chief receiver for an international loan, at a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Liberia was the Negro republic on the west coast of Africa, he said. The capital was Monrovia, which was directly opposite Pernambuco in America. The only persons who could be citizens in Liberia were Negroes, and only citizens could own land. The country had an area of about 25,000 square miles, which made it about as big as Ohio.

The official language of the country was English, though the natives spoke 57 different tongues of five language groups. It would be impossible to learn all these languages, and no one bothered to do it, the consul said. Everybody made themselves understood by means of pidgin English.

The currency of Liberia was the dollar, though the principal circulating medium of exchange was the shilling.

The Negro republic imported almost everything in the way of manufactured articles. Its exports included palm oil, raffia, coffee, rubber and ivory, of which palm oil was the most important.

Liberia's history began in 1816, Mr. Clark said. At the beginning of the 19th century, free Negroes had become a problem in the United States. Liberia was an attempt to solve this problem.

A number of colonization societies sprang up throughout the union. Their object was to export the free Negroes to Africa, where they would be at home.

The U.S. Consul said that of course this was ridiculous. In most cases the Negroes had lived in the U.S. for hundreds of years and Africa was just as strange to them as to the white man.

A commander of a U.S. cruiser bought a tract of land on the grain coast to which the Negroes were sent. This was the first and only colony of the U.S.

This part of Africa was known as the white man's grave. Newcomers died like flies, and Mr. Clark said about 60 per cent of the Negroes died. More than 20 per cent returned to America, but there were enough Negroes left to civilize the native Negroes.

The capital of the country was called Monrovia after President Monroe, and American names prevail throughout Liberia. The architecture was of the old southern American pre-war type.

The United States left the Negroes in all their inexperience to look after themselves. In 1847 Liberia became an organized state.

Money was the greatest need of these people. The first loan which they made with a private bank was disastrous. The interest rate was enormous and the president appeared to have run away with the cash, though nothing was ever seen of the president or the cash.

The second loan which the company attempted was with Great Britain, and a British inspector of customs was set up.

The third loan was international, and this was the one in which Mr. Clark was interested. A receivership of four men was set up and the consul was the head of this board.

The fourth loan was offered by the Firestone Rubber Company, who wanted concessions for rubber. Mr. Clark acted as an arbitrator between the company and the Liberian government.

George Alexander introduced the consul, T. J. Goodlake, who was in the chair, thanked the speaker.

CRIBBAGE PLAY

At a get-together held Tuesday evening by the Fernwood Cribbage Club in the Eagles Hall, prizes were awarded leading teams for the first half of the season's play. The winners were Morrison and Essler, first, and Parfitt and Colbert, second.

Arrangements were made for the second half schedule which will open in the first week in February. A social evening is also being planned for members.

Martin W. Dawson and W. Kettle, the other candidates to the board, also spoke, as did L. W. Goddard and A. G. Lambrecht, candidates for the police commission.

GEORGE BECK IS PRESIDENT

Victoria's nimrods and fishermen last night placed George A. Beck in charge of 1938 activities of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Protective Association, when they unanimously elected him president at the annual meeting held in the Douglas Cafe. About 75 members turned out.

Joe Jewkes was elected to the office of vice-president and Jack Falkins, hard-working secretary, was returned to that post for his second term.

The 1938 directorate includes the following: J. Skelton, George Laird, E. Corry, D. Flintoft, W. McMillan, T. Willoughby, J. King, C. Bruce, Capt. W. E. Tapley, W. Fawcett, E. Hasenfratz, Joe Jewkes, Dr. Jones, C. Kinlock and Col. A. Kent.

A message that evoked a storm of protest from the meeting was the intended action of Metchinson residents to circulate a petition calling for that portion of the district from PARRY Bay to Albert Head to William Head to be converted into a migratory bird sanctuary. It was reported that this action arose through lack of discretion on the part of gun artists when attempting to bring down their quarry during the last season.

It was also reported, in regard to the Metchinson district, that the residents are up in arms over the wild manner in which some hunters were firing their guns during the upland game bird seasons. Apparently some none-too-careful nimrods sprayed houses with birdshot in their wild efforts to bag birds in flight and, in one instance, it was said, fired away in the churchyard during a Sunday service.

Some members asserted that destruction of that sort was being made by a certain few and

Lumber Export Is Near Billion Feet

Chinese Slump Drops B.C. Total Slightly Below Record

Mainly because of a drop in the demand from China, British Columbia's overseas lumber export in 1937 was about 4 per cent below the 1936 record, according to Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau figures today.

Total export was placed at 998,701,542 board feet, compared with 1,042,954,030 board feet in 1936. Empire markets took the bulk of the lumber. The main customer, as in each of the last five years, was the United Kingdom, which took 648,364,276 board feet, 18,000,000 feet less than the previous year.

Shipments to Australia gained from 125,448,305 to 158,400,555 feet, offsetting the small decrease in United Kingdom business.

The South African market, actively cultivated in recent years, took 49,015,044 feet, a decline of 12,000,000 feet from 1936.

Japan and China, which were once the big factors in the lumber export trade, took only 78,000,000 feet between them, barely 8 per cent of the total shipments.

Following are the comparative figures for the twelve leading export markets:

	1937	1936
United Kingdom	648,364,276	666,272,218
Australia	158,400,555	125,448,305
China	49,015,044	61,132,534
Japan	47,984,956	102,743,394
South Sea Islands	30,678,947	33,123,147
South America	12,960,999	10,126,624
West Coast	9,929,371	6,137,639
West Indies	9,486,538	9,822,571
East Indies	8,270,419	8,005,870
East Africa	8,414,656	8,071,457
Belgium	4,571,652	5,891,270
Central America	3,687,387	2,779,688

Domestic shipments were off by about 50,000,000 board feet. Eastern Canada took only 5,859,367 board feet against 32,278,258 feet in 1936, and the Atlantic Coast took 88,481,442 feet against 112,947,593 feet.

Greater activity among lumber shippers of the northwest was indicated by the figures. Where B.C. shipped 70 per cent of the export lumber from the northwest in 1936, last year its proportion was about 62 per cent. Washington and Oregon secured a greater share of the U.K. and African trade. U.K. shipments from the whole of the northwest were actually 1,000,000 feet higher than 1936, although B.C.'s share dropped from 18,000,000 feet.

BRITISH FILM IS PREVIEWED

"Victoria the Great" Is Moving Story as Well as Historical Document

"Victoria the Great," the British historical film, was shown to an invited audience from the civic and provincial governments, the army, the navy, and patriotic societies at a preview in Capitol Theatre this morning. Those who saw the picture spoke highly of it. Anna Neagle, who takes the part of Victoria, is like a picture of the real queen come to life, especially in the technicolor at the end of the film which portrays the late queen as an old lady when she becomes Empress of India and at the time of her jubilee.

Anton Walbrook is a quiet though strong Prince Albert, who tells the young queen he prefers reading to dancing, and Beethoven to Strauss, but succumbs to her charms during a waltz.

Herbert Wilcox has directed this film with fairness and courage for he shows how the English never really accepted the German Albert, and he castigates the sword-rattling Palmerston for his attempt to drag the Empire into a war with the United States. He has made a moving human story out of a historical document.

Though it would appear that "Victoria the Great" has stuck to facts, the film gives an insight into one of the most moving love stories in history. In it Prince Albert is vindicated.

E. E. Richards will speak under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation, on Monday at 8 in the Campbell Building, Douglas Street, on "Undeclared War: Will British Columbia Be Suddenly Invaded?" Mr. Richards will deal with the question of Japanese strategy in the rapidly approaching crisis in the Orient. Great Britain's evident determination to defend her interests there, he believes, forces consideration of British Columbia's position and the possibility of a sudden and unexpected invasion in force. British efforts to obtain German neutrality, the rearmament of Hongkong, and the naval demonstration in connection with the opening of Singapore will be dealt with. New slides will be used for illustration.

Esquimalt And Saanich Vote

Polls Open From 8 to 8 Tomorrow; 23 Candidates For 13 Seats

Taxpayers will go to the polls in Saanich and Esquimalt tomorrow between the hours of 8 in the morning and 8 at night. In Saanich there are two contestants for the reeve'ship, two each for the council seats in Wards 1, 3 and 7, three for the Ward 5 seat, four for three school trusteeships and two for the single police commissioner seat.

In Esquimalt, where the reeve and council have been returned by acclamation, there are four candidates for three school board seats and two for the police commissioner'ship.

In Oak Bay, with all offices filled by acclamation, there is no vote this year.

Saanich polling places are as follows: Ward 1, Cedar Hill School; Ward 2, Tolmie School; Ward 3, Gordon Head School; Ward 4, Women's Institute Hall; Ward 5, Royal Oak School; Ward 6, Temperance Hall, and Ward 7, Tillicum School.

Esquimalt voters will cast their ballots at the Municipal Hall in Section 1 and at 855 Craigflower Road in Section 2.

Test Ruling On White Slavers

Question of "Visible Means of Support" Raised in Appeal Heard Today

Judgment was reserved by the Court of Appeal today in the appeal taken by the Crown against a verdict of Judge Harper, Vancouver, acquitting Fred Turner following trial on a charge of living on the earnings of prostitution.

Serious question arose during the appeal today over the trial judge's decision which would allow anyone charged under the section to escape conviction by proving possession of a sum of money sufficient to be considered visible means of support.

Walter Owen, for the Crown appellant, argued the character of an accused, together with his mode of living, should be taken into consideration and that mere possession of money should not free him from the qualifying clause of being "without visible means of support."

He submitted it was necessary to prove such money was honestly obtained.

Mr. Justice Sloan expressed anxiety over the verdict on the grounds that if mere possession of money were sufficient to prove visible means of support, it would permit a suspected man to escape persecution under that section on a basis of his success in collecting money from prostitutes. He suggested the matter might be more one for a legislature than a court.

In his defence, C. I. McAlpine said the Crown had failed to prove the accused was of loose, idle and disorderly character, or that the money he had in his possession when arrested was derived from prostitution.

He admitted it was possible, under the laws of Canada, for a man to live on the earnings of prostitution—and to evade prosecution on that specific charge by building up a bank account which placed him beyond the class of those without visible support.

Doctor Recalls Pleasant Days

There is a touch of nostalgia about the visit here of Dr. Joseph Gibbs of Vancouver, who with Mrs. Gibbs is at the Empress Hotel for a few days' rest.

Many years ago Dr. Gibbs was one of Victoria's best-known and best-liked physicians and surgeons. He had an office in the old Brunswick Hotel, which is now just a pile of bricks, following its demolition in recent weeks.

He and Mrs. Gibbs had a look at the old building the other day, before it was completely gone, and recalled the old days. They stood on the site of the old Fraser home, which also has disappeared recently. Dr. Gibbs remembers that home well, for he had his home and office not far away on Broughton Street, between Douglas and Broad Streets.

Ruins of Clarendon Palace, a favorite country seat of medieval English kings, have recently been excavated.

OBITUARIES

LEONARD C. MILLS

Last rites were held this morning over the remains of Leonard Calvert Mills, Rev. Father Carruthers celebrating mass at St. Andrew's Cathedral in the presence of a number of sorrowing friends. Interment was in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery, the pallbearers including C. H. O'Halloran, J. Bradshaw, W. Buck, J. Low, C. M. Cookson and G. Westendal.

ELEANOR A. TOOLEY

Many sympathizing friends attended funeral services held this morning at the S. J. Curry and Son, Funeral Home, for Mrs. Eleanor Alice Tooley, of 83 Howe Street. A large number of beautiful floral tributes were received. Rev. O. L. Jull conducted the service and interment was in the Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: Dr. J. S. Plasket, Dr. E. C. Hart, Col. T. B. Monk, Major G. G. Aitken, R. W. Hartley and Tom H. Woolison.

DOROTHY ALICE ROGERS

A large congregation attended the funeral of Miss Dorothy Alice Rogers held yesterday afternoon from the Church of Our Lord (Free Church of England), Rev. A. de B. Owen officiating, assisted by Rev. P. C. Hayman. The hymns "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "On the Resurrection Morning" were sung and a profusion of beautiful floral tributes was received. A delegation of nurses from the Graduate Nurses' Association formed a guard of honor. The following were the pallbearers: F. P. Waters, C. T. Foot, C. Morrison, E. P. Porter, Isaac Finlay and E. B. Pemberton. The remains were laid at rest in Ross Bay Cemetery.

JAMES WILLIAM MOWAT

James William Mowat, of Gordon Head, passed away at his home yesterday in his 78th year. He was born in the Orkney Islands, and had been a resident of Gordon Head for 28 years. He is survived by one brother, John MacGregor Mowat, at Danville, Quebec; two sisters, Mrs. J. Yorton and Miss Jessie Mowat, Orkney Islands; two nephews, John and James Leash, and two nieces, Mrs. W. Dallaway and Mrs. Birch, Victoria; one niece in Danville, Quebec; also one nephew and three nieces in the United States.

Private funeral services will be held in the Sands Mortuary Chapel on Monday afternoon at 2. Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson will officiate, and interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

EVANGELINE SHAW

Funeral services for Miss Evangeline Shaw, who passed away on Monday at Forks, Wash., were held yesterday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn conducted the service, during which the hymns "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" were sung. The Rebekah funeral ceremony was also given in the chapel by the Victoria Rebekah Transient Committee, with the following sisters officiating: Mrs. Mary Combe, acting noble grand; Mrs. Mary Somerville, acting vice-grand, and Miss Netta Lobban, acting chaplain. Sisters of Colfax No. 1 and Carle No. 45 Rebekah Lodges were also in attendance. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following as pallbearers: D. Holman, F. Robinson, E. E. Bragg, A. Scobie, G. Coull and E. Y. Aikens.

Search Records On Ford Plane

Invoices May Help Identify Parts Recovered of Lost Machine

Ernest Eve, who with his brother, Cecil, pioneered the ill-fated trimotor Ford plane service out of Victoria 10 years ago, and who for the first three weeks of the triangular service acted as copilot, today bent his efforts towards the identification of wreckage brought up Wednesday from the Strait of Juan de Fuca by fish trawlers.

"If I saw the parts, I could tell them immediately," Mr. Eve stated today.

He suggested the fastest method by which positive identification could be made would be by communicating with the Firestone tire people, who, he said, would in all probability have a record of the tire hauled up from the bottom of the straits.

In the hopes of finding some clue to identity of the tire without seeing it, he stated he would search his records today to see if the serial number was listed on the invoices when the plane was delivered. He was not certain whether or not the bill he received carried mention of the number.

Says Need For Radio Is Shown

Acting-chief Tells of Difficulty in Handling Robberies Last Night

The armed hold-up of the Fernwood Road confectionery last night and the thefts which immediately preceded and followed it, amply demonstrated the need for radio patrol cars in Victoria, in the opinion of Acting Chief J. A. McEllan.

"Invaluable time was lost between these three incidents by officers having to travel to and from police headquarters, and the acting chief said, "If radio equipped cars had been available investigation would have followed much quicker."

"It must be remembered that there are only a handful of men actually stationed at headquarters throughout the night, and when calls such as these come in and require immediate attention it takes time to secure more men off the beats to go and investigate," he continued.

"It is while such delays as these are taking place that the criminals often find their time for getaways. While we do not assert that the robber who took the purse from 1205 Fernwood Road was one of the quartette that entered the confectionery half an hour earlier it is only reasonable to assume that the police chances of making a capture would have been much more likely if there had been radio patrols on hand, cruising in the vicinity."

The acting chief drew attention to the fact that the robbery on Irma Street and the two on Fernwood Road all occurred within an hour of each other, and in such an instance it was hard to conduct a thorough and speedy investigation with a small number of available men at headquarters.

Communists In Portugal Arrested

LISBON (CP-Havas)—Police today announced arrest of the entire central committee of the Portuguese Communist Party. Members of the regional committee of Oporto also were taken into custody. Further arrests were said to be imminent.

Gas Mask Drill Report Is Denied

The St. John Ambulance Association is not training civilians in Canada in the use of gas masks, no authority has been given for such training, and no gas masks have been ordered from England, G. H. Stevens, president of the British Columbia council of the association said in an official statement today.

The statement followed a news item published in Vancouver to the effect that the association was to give gas mask training to civilians. Contradiction of this item came to the provincial council from Director of Ambulance of the association in Ottawa.

Fasting Dean Silent Today

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—On the 20th day of his fast, Very Rev. Israel Harding Noe kept a tight-lipped silence today concerning the order removing him as dean of St. Mark's Episcopal Cathedral, but ignored his bishop's plea to take food and drink and seek medical advice.

Visibly affected by Bishop James M. Maxon's order removing him, the gaunt clergyman went into seclusion in the deanery.

Portland Once More Reads News

Papers Publishing Again After Settlement of Printers' Strike

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Newspapers, reopened after a six-day printers' strike, buzzed with activity today as editions were made ready for a news-hungry public.

The printers were given a 45 cent per day pay increase, but failed to reduce the working time from seven and a half to seven hours. The wages are $9.40 for day men and $9.50 for night men. The settlement provides a year contract, retroactive to January 1, with hours and wages arbitration or conciliation on July 1 after 30 days' notice by either party.

The Oregonian, morning newspaper, was the first to publish an edition. Starting from scratch, with no set copy ready at 6.15 yesterday evening, when the Associated Press flashed the end of the strike from the Labor Temple, The Oregonian's first edition—32 pages including five of comics—rolled from the presses at midnight.

While the news department summarized week-long news in brief paragraphs, the advertising department mobilized 70 employees in 20 minutes and obtained more than 1,000 inches of new copy in the hour before offices closed.

The Oregon Journal mustered a partial staff last night to prepare for the resumption of publication this afternoon. The News-Telegram also published today.

Publishers submitted the new proposal to strikers at 1.30 Thursday afternoon and voting started at 4.30. Events moved rapidly to the climax, when The Oregonian's cheering news staff dispersed to beats over the city. Printers had voted 212 to 70 to return to work.

Unemployed members of the Typographical Union were disappointed by the vote and failure to secure a shorter day to spread work.

Labor Groups To Be Expelled

A. F. of L. at Convention to Oust C.I.O. Mine and Clothing Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unless there is a last-minute change in intention, the American Federation of Labor's executive council will expel at least two committees for industrial organization unions at its Miami meeting starting next Monday.

Definitely slated for the axe are John E. Lewis's United Mine Workers and Sidney Hillman's Amalgamated Clothing Workers. Federation leaders are talking also of severing the last technical tie between the A. F. of L. and the C.I.O.'s refinery and metal mine unions.

As long as these unions even technically are in the A. F. of L., the federation is bound by its constitution to keep out of their territory. Once they are expelled, the federation can, and expects to, move in with unions of its own.

ENDED HER LIFE

BURNABY, B.C. (CP)—Mildred E. Pritchard, 21, was found dead at her home near here early today. The body was hanging by a rope from a beam in the basement. The discovery was made by the girl's father, W. A. Pritchard, former reeve of Burnaby.

CALGARY LIVESTOCK

CALGARY — Receipts today, 191 cattle, 13 calves, no hogs, no sheep.

Cattle market was quiet with steady prices. No hogs were sold to noon.

Common to medium steers, 3.00 to 4.00; good heifers, 4.00 to 4.25; common to medium, 3.00 to 3.75; good cows, 2.75 to 3.00; common, 2.00 to 2.50; good veal calves, 4.75 to 5.00; common to medium, 3.00 to 4.00.

Yesterday's prices for hogs; Selects, 8.35; butchers, 7.85; off truck, 7.35, off truck.

Profit-taking Clips Wall St. Leaders

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks generally were unsuccessful in continuing the rally today and most market leaders tipped over fractions to two or more points.

A few aircraft, rubbers, oils and specialties put up a show of resistance to profit-taking, but the majority of these displayed little disposition to hold top gains.

The list dipped after a mixed opening, then engineered a mild upward reversal around midday. A subsequent setback in steel and motor stocks discouraged recovery contingents. Modest buying just before the close enabled some losers to reduce declines.

There was virtually no important liquidation, brokers said, and the ticker tape was frequently idle. Transfers approximated 800,000 shares.

Bonds and commodities were uneven. Wheat at Chicago lost 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel and corn was unchanged to up 1/4. The French franc was nervous as further doubts regarding the republic's financial and political problems arose.

Broad trading in the rail division brought further wide and conflicting price movements in many carrier issues in today's bond market.

Industrial and utility divisions commanded relatively small interest. U.S. Governments were mostly lower, though losses were narrow.

In the fifth hour losses ran from one to four points in loans of Lehigh Valley, Boston and Maine, New York Central, Great Northern and Pennsylvania. In contrast there were gains ranging from one to around two in some issues of Baltimore and Ohio, Erie, Illinois Central, Allegheny Corporation, Chesapeake and Ohio and Nickel Plate.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty Industrials—130.69, off 1.64.

Twenty rails—29.80, off 0.65.

Twenty utilities—20.78, off 0.36.

Forty bonds—90.10, off 0.45.

Sheep Creek, Reno And Cariboo Are Up

VANCOUVER (CP)—Trading was dull during the forenoon session on Vancouver Stock Exchange today and prices closed with an irregular trend. Transactions totaled 47,772 shares.

Sheep Creek gold was most active stock and closed up 3 cents at 1.03. Reno gained 4 at 47 and Cariboo Gold Quartz 2 at 1.84. Premier slipped 5 at 1.91. Big Missouri 2 at 46 and Pioneer a cent at 2.99. Bralorne at 8.90 and Minto at 75 were unchanged.

B.C. Nickel headed base metals, but dropped 2 1/2 at 28. White water, Nicola and Grandview dipped fractions. Reeves Macdonald at 44 and Pend Oreille at 2.27 both added 2 while Lucky Jim firmed 3 1/4 at 3 1/4.

Oklatka Oil was down 4 at 2.17 while Calgary and Edmonton at 2.87 and Vulcan at 1.08 eased 2. Home and United both slipped 1 and Royalite at 44.25, Dalhousie at 60 and A.P. Consolidated at 30 1/2 were unchanged. Anglo-Canadian gained 5 at 1.45 as McDougall Segur Exploration and Calmont firmed fractions.

Oils Unchanged On Calgary Mart

CALGARY (CP)—Trading was dull in sympathy with eastern markets on the morning session of the Calgary Stock Exchange today with prices holding mostly unchanged. The odd exception was Oklatka with a one point gain, McDougall Ex. 1/2 at 32. On the losing side were Sunset down 2 at 40 and United 1 at 23.

Commodities, Mercury and Richmond were unchanged. Transfers totaled 29,848 shares.

VANCOUVER (CP)—City police today investigated a report by Y. Watanabe, Japanese, that two mysterious small fires have been started in his garage recently. Both were extinguished before any damage was done, he said.

Cannot Explain Sudden Rise

MONTREAL (CP)—Specialties pushed forward in an otherwise drab stock market session today.

Brokers were unable to explain late demand that sent McGill Frontenac Oil up 1 1/2 to 12 1/2. International Petroleum and Imperial Oil ruled steady to firmer in light trading.

Smelters and Noranda rallied small amounts but Nickel dipped a bit. Brazilian sold lower.

Sphinxes and Obelisks

When someone mentions the word "sphinx" we are likely to think of the Great Sphinx of Gizeh. That is the largest and most famous sphinx, but it is far from being the only one. Hundreds of sphinxes were made by the people of ancient Egypt, and other olden countries had sphinxes as well.

The Alabaster Sphinx at Memphis.

Sometimes a sphinx was given the face of a woman and the body of a lion fitted with wings. In Egypt it was common to place the head of a man, or a hawk, or a ram, on the body of a lion.

Next to the Great Sphinx, the best-known statue of this kind is the Alabaster Sphinx of Memphis. This sphinx is 26 feet long and 14 feet wide. Its weight is about 80 tons, and it dates back about 3,200 years.

Obelisks are other monuments of Egyptian sculptors. These pillars rise to heights of from 20 feet to over 100 feet. The name "obelisk" means "pointed pillar," and obelisks are always pointed at the top. They are four-sided.

Heliopolis, a little city not far from Cairo, is the home of the oldest obelisk in Egypt. Oddly enough, it is supposed to have been set up in the year 1338 B.C. This would give it an age of exactly twice the number of our present calendar year. The obelisk is 67 feet high, and is believed to weigh about 121 tons.

Among the queens of ancient Egypt was one named Hatshepsut. She lived 34 centuries ago, and her reign lasted 22 years. Being a firm believer in the old Egyptian religion, she caused temples to be built—chiefly in honor of the god Amun. She also ordered two great obelisks to be set up at Karnak. One of the obelisks still stands. It is 97 feet high and weighs about 325 tons.

The obelisk of Queen Hatshepsut is almost covered with writing. Here is the meaning of some of the old Egyptian sentences:

"I have done this from a loving heart for my father Amun. I was sitting in my palace when my heart led me to make for him two obelisks with electrum tops. Each obelisk was cut from one block of granite, without seam or joining. My majesty caused men to work seven months to take the granite from the mountain. The electrum for the tops of the obelisks was measured out like sacks of grain."

The electrum of which the queen spoke was a silver-gold alloy, the olden "white gold." The queen was not sparing about the use of this precious material. An old record tells us that 12 bushels of white gold were used to decorate another work she set up in honor of the gods.

Queen Hatshepsut's obelisk is the highest one now in Egypt, but a larger one stands in St. Peter's square, outside St. Peter's Church in Rome. It was transported from Egypt to Rome by order of a Roman emperor.

Talking Down to Children A Mistake

Dorothy Dix

Teach Them as If They Had Sense

THE GREATEST mistake that parents make is in under-valuing the intelligence of their children. Only too often they treat their youngsters as if they were totally devoid of reason, incapable of understanding what goes on about them or drawing any conclusions therefrom, and hence to be dealt with high-handedly and without the necessity of using any finesse.

This is where fathers and mothers make the initial error that enables the children in most families to get the ascendancy. For instead of little Johnny and little Susie being dummies who see nothing and know nothing and comprehend nothing, they see everything and know everything.

They are preternaturally clever and, as Mr. Mantalini used to say, deep and devilish sly, and possessed of occult powers of knowing how to dominate those about them. Within a month after the arrival of every baby in a house, it has made its fight for supremacy and decided who is going to be the boss of it, which is a fine exhibition of generalship at which we should all marvel, except that it is so common.

Apparently every baby is born with a complete understanding of the workings of the law of cause and effect, for it takes only two nights for one to find out whether there is any percentage in howling for its bottle and to be walked, or whether it had just as well shut eye and go to sleep, without making any fuss about it. Nor is there any child of two who doesn't know whether it can wear its parents down with persistent nagging and get what it wants, or whether it is a waste of breath to argue further when Father and Mother have said "no."

Certainly parents would save themselves a lot of trouble later on if they realized that the poker-faced little infant, who looks so innocent and angelic, had their numbers down to the last figure, was out to get them and would do it if they didn't watch out. For parental authority once lost can never be regained. It is mighty hard to depose a king, and virtually impossible to get back the throne you have abdicated.

Even the parents who try to control their children—and they are few and far between in these days—make the mistake of talking down to their children. They think a child cannot understand anything deeper than Mother Goose and so they arbitrarily order it to do this or not to do that without explaining their motives, and the result is rebellion instead of obedience.

A child will think Father is an old meanie if he refuses him the bicycle he wants without explaining why, but if Father talks to him man to man and tells the lad about how bad business is and how worried he is over the bills, it is a different story. Probably never again can parents get unquestioned obedience from their children, but they can get co-operation if they will only trust the children's intelligence enough to make them understand why the pattern of life they set for them is a good one.

Parents make another great mistake in thinking that they can deceive their children and that they don't see through them and know their every fault and weakness. If Father is a philerender, the children know it, and also know why Mother goes around the house with her eyes red and never a smile. If Mother is extravagant and buys a new dress with the money she should pay on the grocery bill, they know she is running Father into debt. And when Mother and Father preach the moralities to them that they have not practiced themselves, they laugh at them in their little sleeves.

But perhaps the worst feature of all of this attitude that parents have of dealing with their children as morons is that so many fathers and mothers never realize that their children grow up and are capable of deciding anything for themselves. They think they know better than John and Mary the careers they should follow and whom they should marry, so they force the round pegs into square holes and are responsible for the wrecks of many lives.

Pre-emptive Bid Fails to Prevent Experts From Reaching, and Fulfilling, Six Diamond Bid

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

It was a rubber game, and North and South already had a top-heavy honor score, and a game chalked up. West was a player who liked pre-emptive bids, and when he picked up today's hand he could scarcely be blamed for fearing the worst—even if South had already passed.

North was confronted with a problem after West's pre-emptive opening. An overall of four no trump would probably force his partner to bid five hearts. Then it would simply be a guess as to whether or not he should bid six diamonds. The safest course seemed to be the one selected, namely, the overall of five diamonds.

In view of the opening pre-empt, East hoped that his partner might be void of hearts, and so led that suit instead of a spade. North, when he saw the dummy, realized that at best dummy contained two heart entries, if the finesse against the king succeeded.

To make the contract he must avoid the loss of a club trick, as East for his double must be credited with at least one diamond trick. The nine of hearts held the first trick and a club finesse of the jack held.

North now laid down the ace of trump. West failed to follow. The jack of hearts was next led and overtaken with the queen, and again West discarded. The ace of hearts was cashed and the club queen discarded by declarer. The heart ten was ruffed and then the ace of clubs and the ace of spades cashed.

The queen of spades was then ruffed in dummy. When East followed declarer had a fair count on his hand. The club was led from dummy and ruffed with the diamond six. When East followed, the hand was in.

North laid down the diamond nine. East won, and having nothing left but trumps, he had to lead up to the king and jack in the declarer's hand. East's setting trick had vanished.

Contract Problem (Solution in next issue)

South's contract is four spades. West opened the bidding with one heart and later, although North had doubled and South bid two spades, bid three diamonds. Can South, by correctly reading the distribution, confine his apparent four losers to three losing tricks?

SAANICH TRUSTEE ELECTION

To the Editor:—The Parent-Teacher Association with which he has been connected have received with gratification the announcement that Mr. M. W. Dawson, of Gordon Head, has consented to run for school trustee. Mr. Dawson has worked untiringly to give the children in the schools with which he has been connected every educational opportunity. He has improved library facilities in some of the schools, and helped the parents to get better picture of the place of the school in the community. Some fine speakers and programmes that would otherwise have been lost to Saanich have been brought to Gordon Head by him, and he feels that the schools of Saanich can help the community by moulding good citizens with a healthy outlook on life.

Mr. Dawson came to Saanich from Alberta, and is in a position to give a great deal of time to school work. He believes that the children of Saanich should be given an opportunity that is not less than that afforded to the other children of British Columbia. As a result of his close contact with the schools of his own district, he is in a position to visualize the needs of Saanich educationally, and to help attain these aims. His qualifications are enhanced by the fact that, as a parent, he is most anxious that the schools of Saanich should have an intensive programme of health education and sports activities which will result in a healthier community.

President of Mt. Douglas P.T.A.

SEAMEN THINK OF CRIPPLES

"Black Gang" of President Grant Had Happy Thought of Giving at Yuletide

A seagoing Santa Claus is making a belated call today to bring joy to crippled children.

He came all the way from Hoishota Island in the Formosa Sea to bring happiness to the little inmates of the Seattle Orthopaedic Hospital.

The means of transport was the liner President Grant which reached Victoria Thursday night from the Orient.

Because of its human appeal it was impossible to keep the story secret. Everybody aboard the President Grant was talking about it.

The great moment arrived today following the arrival of the American Mail liner at Seattle.

There was no propagandist build-up to the little ceremony set for today when Chief Engineer Eli Christenson and the 44 members of the President Grant's engineering crew presented to the children of the orthopaedic hospital 125 pieces of handsome reed furniture brought all the way from Manila.

The gift was brought about by a happy thought that entered the minds of members of the "black gang" last Christmas Eve when the President Grant was lying off Hoishota Island taking off the crew and mails from the stranded liner President Hoover.

Thinking of home and the spirit of giving, the boys below deck on the President Grant responded to the idea enthusiastically and a considerable sum of money was promptly contributed to buy reed chairs and tables which they thought would give pleasure to the little crippled children at home.

BILIOUSNESS

If you are subject to bilious attacks or the pains and discomforts of heartburn, dyspepsia, and other stomach trouble, you will be deeply interested in this case of Miss D. B. Glasco, of Mitcham. "For three years," she writes, "I suffered from very bad bilious attacks until I learned about Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Since then I have taken it regularly and have been free from these attacks."

Doctors speak highly of Maclean Brand Stomach Powder which is used in many hospitals. It is designed to quickly neutralize the acids which are gnawing at the stomach walls, and to soothe inflamed, delicate tissue so that the stomach is helped to recover its proper, pain-free activity. Be sure to get the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder—bearing the signature, "Alex. C. Maclean," on both bottle and carton. In powder and tablets, 75c. at drugists. 111

Around the Docks

LOADING LUMBER

To pick up 400,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom, Ss. King Frederick arrived from Vancouver at 2 this morning and went to a berth at the Canadian National docks.

Lumber is being taken aboard from railroad cars spotted alongside and from scows on the port side.

Efforts will be made to get the King Frederick away for Crofton tonight.

Ss. Dalbar is looked for at the Ogden Point assembly plant tomorrow.

HERE FOR MONTH

The work of overhauling the propelling machinery of the tanker Ontario is proceeding satisfactorily as the vessel lies alongside the Esquimalt drydock wharf, it was stated at Yarrow's Ltd. today.

The contract is an extensive one and will keep the Imperial Oil tanker out of commission until the end of the month.

The Ontario has been in the hands of Yarrow's for underwater and engine room work since the beginning of the year.

ISLAND KING OVERHAULS

The place of H.M.C.S. Malaspina, which was floated from Yarrow's Ltd. marine ways yesterday, has been taken by the steamer Island King of the B.C. Cement Company.

Work is going on aboard the Malaspina, which is moored at Yarrow's Ltd. outfitting wharf.

PIONEER ON MONDAY

Bound here in the Furness Line North Pacific service, Ms. Pacific Pioneer is expected to arrive next Monday, according to King Bros. Capt. H. Campbell is in command.

Six passengers are aboard for British Columbia, Mrs. G. E. Butterfield, Miss Butterfield, Mrs. L. Broadbridge, W. H. Inskip, O. S. Walters and N. S. St. George Mansergh.

PUT BACK TO BALBOA

The British freighter Uffington Court, bound for B.C. to load lumber and grain for the United Kingdom, has been forced to put back to Balboa for propeller repairs, Seaboard Shipping Agency Ltd. has been informed.

Uffington Court was two days out from Balboa when she put back to the canal port.

Grimsby Secures Hugh Gallacher

LONDON—Hugh Gallacher has moved again. One of the most-discussed players in Old Country football in a generation, the veteran Scottish international centre forward has left Notts County for Grimsby Town.

An aggregate of £22,500 ($122,500) has been paid by different clubs for the wandering footballer's services during the 17 years of his big-time career. The County let him go this time for £1,000 ($5,000), the smallest transfer fee of his career.

PAT MALONE THROUGH

NEW YORK—The veteran pitcher Pat Malone has ended his long career as an active player in the big baseball leagues, New York Yankees announced yesterday.

Malone, who pitched for the Yankees the last three seasons after having been with Chicago Cubs for seven years, has not been offered a 1938 contract.

Lifted 60 Feet Over Bonneville

Dwarfed by the gigantic size of this huge lock at Bonneville Dam, the river steambot pictured above was on the way up the Columbia River to The Dalles, Ore., 200 miles distant. First vessel to make the transit, the ship was raised 60 feet in Bonneville's world's largest single-lift construction locks. Operation of the locks will permit ocean vessels to ascend the Columbia to The Dalles, making that point the nation's farthest inland seaport.

R. H. Kirkpatrick Buried Today

C.P.S.: Catering Superintendent Served Company For Many Years
British Columbia's shipping fraternity today mourned the passing of R. H. Kirkpatrick, catering superintendent of Canadian Pacific Steamships, who passed away Wednesday at Vancouver after a lengthy illness.

The funeral of the late superintendent was held in Vancouver today.

The pallbearers were: W. Parr, W. Booth, W. Caldwell, H. Bradshaw, E. Blight and J. Allen, all members of Canadian Pacific Steamships staff.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. J. Minto Swan. Before coming to this coast, Mr. Kirkpatrick was for many years of the Atlantic.

He was a chief steward on Allan liners and Canadian Pacific ships which succeeded them following 1900.

In 1931 he left the post of chief steward of the Empress of Australia to become catering superintendent of the Pacific fleet at Vancouver.

He was chief steward successively of the Sicilian, Ionian, Scotian, Metagama, Melita, Montrose and Empress of Scotland.

His ship, the Scotian, took first position on the southern line when Canada's first contingent was conveyed to England in 1915.

In the same year he saw service with a prison ship at Portsmouth, and was at Muro's Landing at Gallipoli on April 23, 1915, and worked at the Sulva Bay evacuation later. His system for embarkation of troops at Alexandria in 1915 was adopted by the British command.

Born in Wigtown, Scotland, 58 years ago, he was apprenticed as a machine engraver, but left this for the sea 36 years ago. He is survived by Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a son, Robert W., and a daughter, Mollie.

BUILT FOR SOVIET

NEW YORK (AP)—The Martin ocean transport, biggest flying boat ever launched in the United States, landed yesterday in Jamaica Bay off Floyd Bennett Field, after a flight from Baltimore.

The craft carried 33 passengers and a crew of 10. The flight constituted delivery to the Soviet government, for which it was built by the Glenn L. Martin Company.

The ship will be dismantled and transported to Russia by boat.

EXTEND AIR SERVICE

OTTAWA (CP)—The Post Office department last night announced the Prince George, Fort Graham, B.C., air mail route will be extended to Ware, B.C.

To commemorate the inaugural flights which will start about March 12, special cachets will be used on letters carried on the initial flights.

Earl of Cork Fleet Admiral

Succeeds Admiral Sir Frederick Field, Who Retires Today

LONDON (CP Cable)—Admiral the Earl of Cork and Orrery is promoted to admiral of the fleet, the Admiralty announced last night, succeeding Sir Frederick L. Field, who retires from the active list today.

The Earl of Cork and Orrery remains commander-in-chief of the Portsmouth command, a post given him last year. First and principal naval aide-de-camp to the King since 1936, he succeeded to the earldom in 1934 and was previously Admiral Boyle. He is 64.

Admiral Field, aged 66, commanded the battleship King George V at the battle of Jutland. He took part in the capture of Tientsin, China, in the Boxer rebellion of 1900, and was First Sea Lord of the Admiralty and chief of naval staff from 1930 to 1933.

C.N.R. Accountant Dies at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG—W. J. Leger, who had been 48 years in the service of the Intercolonial and the Canadian National Railways service as accountant, died Sunday midnight, at his residence, after a brief illness.

Mr. Leger was 65 years of age and had only retired from active work in August, 1937. He was born at Moncton, N.B., and after a lengthy period in railway work in that city was transferred to Winnipeg. At his retirement he held the position of regional stores accountant.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Nora Bourque, to whom he was married in Moncton in 1901; four sons and four daughters, these being Louis of Winnipeg; Alfred of Wells, B.C.; Arthur of Saskatoon, and Raymond at home; Evangeline, Helen, Yvonne and Lucille, all at home, and three brothers, Peter of Gibbon's Landing, B.C., and Joseph and Solomon at Moncton. The funeral was held Wednesday from the Sacred Heart Church, with interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

SEEK CONTROL ON THIS COAST

C.I.O. as Collective Bargaining Agency For Longshoremen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Seeking to establish control over Pacific northwest longshoremen still affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union District 1, Committee for Industrial Organization, has asked the United States National Labor Relations Board for certification as the collective bargaining agency for Pacific Coast longshoremen.

The formal application, signed by Harry Bridges, district president, was filed yesterday.

Richard Gladstein, C.I.O. attorney, said another purpose of the petition was to offset Pacific coast maritime employers' expressed doubts the C.I.O. Union can claim properly to be the collective bargaining representative for the men. After signing contracts with employers last year, the longshoremen's union switched its affiliation from the A.F. of L. to the C.I.O. and changed its name.

Okanagan People Arrive on Coast

VANCOUVER—Three Canadian Pacific trains last night and today brought 350 travelers into Vancouver from all parts of the Okanagan Valley, the Kettle Valley district and main line points between Spencer's Bridge and Field on another of the popular bargain fare excursions operated between the coast and the interior.

The first contingent reached town by train No. 1 at 10:30 Thursday, and others arrived by No. 3, "The Dominion," at 9 today, and by No. 11 the Kootenay Express, at 1 this morning.

Drydock Project At Fraser Port

Tom Reid, M.P., Tells New Westminster Negotiations Under Way

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Tom Reid, Liberal member of Parliament for New Westminster, told the annual meeting of the New Westminster Federal Liberal Association here Wednesday night that negotiations were under way for the establishment here of a drydock, costing from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

"Plans are being prepared for presentation at Ottawa and it will be one of my endeavors at the next session to secure this project for the port," he said.

Survey Fish Dock On False Creek

VANCOUVER (CP)—Houseboat dwellers on False Creek faced possibility of eviction from that area when Alderman H. D. Wilson, chairman of the civic committee on harbors, announced the Dominion Government's survey boat Walrona was making soundings to find a suitable site for a proposed fish dock in False Creek.

Wilson said that if the survey proves the site satisfactory he would urge the council to obtain title to the foreshore from the B.C. government. He added that construction of the dock would automatically compel foreshore dwellers to move.

GIRLS WHO HAVE NO BOY FRIENDS

Quick Easy Way to Get Charm

Girls who don't attract boy friends wonder why. Beautiful, perfect features are not the reason. Cleopatra and famous women were often ugly. Have nice skin, plenty of animation, and watch out for your figure—you'll be surprised how popular you are. So many girls have poor complexions—no life—their figure showing, and don't realize it. Take "Fruit-A-Tives" and you'll soon be amazed how different and how attractive you become. It purifies your blood, makes the skin pores work, gets rid of waste and poisons, gives you new energy, prevents flabby tissue from forming. "Fruit-A-Tives" gives you new charm. 25c., 50c.
